Washington, March 10 (AP)—Two youthful gunmen—one of them clad in a rakish zoot suit—confessed today to the daring Martinsburg, W. Va., express train robbery.

One was shot and critically wounded just before their capture in a downtown pawnshop near the White House.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation promptly filed train robbery charges against the pair.

Luman Ramsdell, 23-year-old tough guy who has been in and out of Ohio reformatories since he was 16. He is in a critical condition with a bullet wound in the stomach. Police shot him when he drew a pistol.

George Llewellyn Ashton, 21, who also served time for a series of robberies in Youngstown, Ohio, home town of both.

Both men were armed when Washington police trapped them in the pawnshop.

The arrests came barely 15 hours (Please Turn to Page 2)

LITTLESTOWN

SHOE COMPANY WILL PROVIDE ATHLETIC FIELD

Supervising Principal Paul E. King informed the members of the executive board of the Littlestown School Jointure, meeting in monthly session Wednesday evening in the high school, that the Littlestown school system will have the opportunity of staging athletic events on a new field that is being made available to the district through the financial assistance of a Littlestown industry. Mr. King said, "This new field will give Littlestown one of the most modern athletic fields in this area, for a community of its size."

"This tract of ground is off Maple avenue, north of the present school property and is in excess of four acres. Open ditches which were running through these grounds have been closed with tile. The field has been graded and is almost ready for grass seeding. Provision has been made for night football and night baseball on this field. One hundred thirty-six OE floodlights have been purchased and they will be installed on 90-foot poles and coupled with an underground wiring system. Other necessary fixtures including transformers, brackets, etc., have also been purchased and delivered for installation as soon as the weather is suitable. Contracts have been let by the athletic council for complete installation of all fixtures with work to begin in April, weather permitting.

The field which will also be used for the town baseball games, will be enclosed with a steel wire fence with four exit gates, two off Maple avenue, one off Newark street and one leading to the entrance off Myrtle street. It is planned to move the present high school bleachers from their present location to the new field. Representatives of the town baseball team anticipate playing most of their league games on night schedules during the summer.

Financed By Littenian Shoe Firm

"This project is being financed," Mr. King said, "by the Littenian Shoe company, Luther W. and Charles R. Ritter, owners, who have made an agreement with the school athletic council to have the cost of the project amortized by high school athletic events and proportionate receipts of community baseball, with the stipulation that when the amortization will have equaled the investment made by the Littenian Shoe company, together with interest on the same, the field and its equipment will become the property of the Littlestown school district. It is the understanding that other contributors will have the right of use, according to a schedule set up by the athletic council and approved by the executive board of the Littlestown Joint School District."

Mr. King further emphasized to the executive board that all school athletics programs must pay their own way, out of the receipts they earn. "State laws," he said, "do not permit the use of any general school funds in carrying on, equipping or maintaining any athletic activity."

Continuing with his discussion of the new field, Mr. King said: "It is also understood that this new athletic field may be used for any type of recreation which the school may

CITES REMEDIES FOR TRAINING DELINQUENTS

"There is no short cut to the control of juvenile delinquency, and no cure-all for it," Mrs. Jeanette M. Dye, member of the Pennsylvania General Assembly and chairman of a 12-member sub-committee of the Joint State Government commission, making a study of juvenile delinquency, told members of the Woman's club of Gettysburg Wednesday afternoon at the YWCA.

In describing the provisions of Act 832, now in the appropriations committee, Mrs. Dye said it was intended to, augment as well as increase the work being done at the present time, and at the same time segregate and individualize remedies.

"Institutions for the care of juvenile delinquents are doing the best they can, but they are not adequate," Mrs. Dye said. "The defect of training schools is in their mass education, and the lumping together of boys of all ages, the normal with the mentally deficient and the incorrigibles with those who can be aided."

Seek Survey Board

Mrs. Dye said that the "Youth Conservation Act" proposed to set up a three-member board with survey and diagnostic "teams," to determine why a child is delinquent, and place the sick in hospitals, the mental cases in care of the Department of Mental Health and others in foster homes. "There is still going to be a group left," she said. "We will try to channel them into an institution to care for their particular needs."

Mrs. Dye said the bill sought $500,000 to establish two experimental forestry camps for boys who need guidance and could be placed in these camps to do constructive work similar to that of the old CCC camps, and another $500,000 to set up regional child guidance clinics under the Department of Public Instruction.

Practical Nurses

"It is a cheap program compared to what we have to pay for crime in Pennsylvania," she declared.

Mrs. Dye also sketched provisions of the bill to license practical nurses. She said that there is "a terrific shortage" of trained nurses. (Please turn to Page 8)

SORORITY TO ELECT OFFICERS

Officers were nominated by Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, at a meeting in the recreation rooms in the basement of the First National Bank Tuesday night, and plans made for a "hobo" dance, a rummage sale and an Easter egg hunt for children.

These members were nominated: president, Jane Buehler and Charlotte Swope; vice president, Janet Sixeas and Eloise McClellan; recording secretary, Doris Welshonice and Loraine Rohrbach; corresponding secretary, Margaret Spangler and Esther Geiselman; treasurer, Evelyn Snyder and Mildred Kenworthy. The election will take place March 22.

"Hobo" Dance March 15

The "hobo" dance will be held March 15, at Reaver's pavilion just outside of town, near the Emmitsburg road. Members may bring a guest.

The ways and means committee will hold a rummage sale April 8 and 9. The Easter egg hunt will be held April 16. It will be divided into three children's age groups. The place and other details have not been decided.

Mrs. Charlotte Swope, president of the sorority, presided at the business session. Slides of a western trip were shown by Mrs. Eleanor Garfinkle.

Motorists Persist In Chasing Trucks

In spite of repeated warnings against following fire trucks en route to fires, between 75 and 100 automobiles formed a procession along most bumper to bumper on Lincolnway West late last night as Gettysburg firemen responded to a call at the home of Robert Shirley, near Seven Stars.

Cars were later parked in a solid line on a side road leading to the Shirley home. The license numbers of a number of these cars were taken by a police officer.

Firemen also complained that they had difficulty in locating the fire because there was no one to direct them.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen issued a warning to firemen and motorists in general to obey the signals of the police officer who regularly assumes direction of traffic at Middle and Baltimore streets after the fire siren sounds. Twice on Wednesday evening there were near accidents, the chief said, because drivers—some of them firemen—failed to heed the signals of Officer Ralph Fissel on duty there.

Keep Your Hands Off The Press

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—The Senate today began consideration of a measure to impose stiff penalties on anyone harming a working news reporter or photographer.

The measure would impose a $2,000 fine or three years imprisonment or both for anyone convicted of the offense.

"The purpose of this measure is to demonstrate to the public that the working press on the job is entitled to the same consideration as other people," said Sen. John R. Meade (R-Phila.), the measure's sponsor.

WILL ELECT 11 YW DIRECTORS NEXT THURSDAY

Election of 11 members of the board of directors of the YWCA will take place at the annual membership dinner meeting to be held at the "Y" next Thursday, at 6:30 p. m.

Members were reminded today that reservations for the dinner must be made at the "Y" office not later than Saturday. The membership committee, of which Mrs. E. Donald Scott is chairman, will be in charge of the dinner. Tickets are 75 cents. The Y-Teen group will serve.

At the business meeting which will follow the dinner, annual reports of clubs and committee chairmen will be received and the annual election will be held on a ticket presented by the nominating committee. ## BIGLERVILLE IS CONSIDERING MOVIE THEATRE

A motion picture theatre for Biglerville is being studied as an early expansion possibility by operators of a chain of movie houses in Pennsylvania and Maryland, according to information divulged by Henry D. Lower at the regular monthly meeting of the Biglerville Businessmen's club held in the high school Wednesday night. He reported that one favorable recommendation had already been made, and a further consideration of the project will be undertaken in the near future.

President Oscar C. Rice, Jr., read a communication from Miss Marion Thomas, suggesting the advisability of a uniform advertising slogan to be used in all displays by Biglerville merchants. Her own suggested line "Better Buys in Biglerville" was favorably received, but decision on its adoption deferred until a future meeting. Members were urged to contribute other suggestions for slogans suitable for advertising the (Please Turn To Page 8)

TO BE HOST TO EASTERN CHIEFS

The Gettysburg Fire department will be host to members of the Eastern Fire Chiefs association on Friday, May 27, when the fire chiefs, in York for their annual convention, come to Gettysburg for a tour of the battlefield.

James B. Aumen, president of the fire company, told members at Wednesday night's regular meeting, that eight to ten buses will be used to transport the fire chiefs from York to Gettysburg. They are expected to arrive here about 1 p. m.

The fire company voted to furnish a lunch at the engine house upon their arrival. The chiefs will then tour the battlefield, returning to York in the late afternoon. Vice President William G. Weaver was named chairman of a committee to arrange for the entertainment of the visitors.

The fire company also voted memberships for Chief James A. Aumen, Assistant Chiefs Donald Jacobs and Donald McSherry and Fire Marshal Eugene S. Sickles in the Eastern and International Fire Chiefs associations.

House Near Aspers Damaged By Fire

The Aspers fire company was called 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening to extinguish a fire in a house owned by Henry Baugher, located about 3 1/2 miles south of Aspers.

Sparks from a grass fire nearby were believed to have set fire to one corner of the untenanted frame structure. Damage was slight, being confined to the outside of the house along the one side.

SAE And Phi Gamma Delta Frats Will Welcome National Officers

Lauren Foreman, Eminent Summa preme Recorder of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Evanston, Ill., will be the honored guest of the Gettysburg college Pennsylvania Delta chapter at its annual observance of Founders' Day which will be held this week-end. He will address the annual banquet in the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday evening.

LAUREN FOREMAN

Following a dinner conference at the fraternity house Friday at 5 p. m. members will participate in the inter-fraternity get-together in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Initiation of new members will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at the Moose home, York street, and will be conducted by Rev. Carl R. Simon, a graduate with the class of 1924.

Corporation To Meet

At 3:30 o'clock the 47th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Delta corporation will be held with Grant D. Gerberich, class of 1922, president of the corporation, presiding.

Atty. P. Brewster Wickersham, Harrisburg, class of 1915, will serve as toastmaster. The invocation will be given by Paul R. Clouser, class of 1919, while the toastmaster will be introduced by Paul E. Clouser, class of 1950.

Carl R. Gray, Jr., administrator of Veterans' Affairs, will be a special guest at the dinner. Honored guests will include the fraternity brothers who were initiated in 1899 or before and each will receive 50-year certificates of membership. The certificates will be presented by Mr. Foreman for the national fraternity. Fifty-year tokens will be awarded by Mr. Gerberich for the corporation.

May Attend Concert At Chambersburg

The Slavenska Ballet Variante, composed of eight outstanding artists, will be presented at Chambersburg tonight at 8:15 p. m. Members of the Gettysburg Concert association are privileged to attend. However, owing to an anticipated large Chambersburg attendance, out of town guests are requested to wait until 8 o'clock before entering.

Mildred Dilling, harpist, will present a concert in Westminster on Monday night. Miss Dilling appeared in Gettysburg several years ago. Gettysburg Concert association members may also attend the concert by Whittemore and Lowe, duo pianists, at Winchester, Va., March 28.

Punctures Forearm While Butchering

Charles Keepers, 63, Emmitsburg, an employee at St. Joseph's college, was treated at the Warner hospital Wednesday afternoon for a deep puncture wound of his left forearm which severed a large vein. He was injured while butchering.

Mrs. Mary Carey, 75, Arendtsville, received treatment for a bone fracture in her right hand sustained in a fall down stairs at her home Wednesday afternoon.

Expect Speaker Of National Prominence Here July 3rd

A figure of national prominence, probably a high-ranking army officer, will be the principal speaker at exercises to be held July 3 in connection with the 86th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, being sponsored by the Gettysburg Fire department, William G. Weaver, co-chairman of the general committee announced today.

Col. Weaver received a letter this morning from the office of public information, Secretary of Defense, assuring him that this office would supply an outstanding speaker for the Gettysburg occasion. The Sunday program is a part of a five-day celebration being planned here, beginning June 30 and concluding July 4.

James S. Shenk, co-chairman of the general committee, announced

Four national officers of Phi Gamma Delta are expected to attend the annual Norris Pig dinner of Xi Chapter Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the fraternity house on the campus.

John S. Sickles, national legal advisor; Herbert N. Smith, national treasurer; J. Earl Dunford, national assistant executive secretary, and Cecil P. Dawson, junior counselor, are the national officers expected.

J. Blaine Salter, assistant professor of economics at Gettysburg will serve as toastmaster at the dinner. The invocation will be sung by Ross Sachs and Dr. Charles H. Huber will offer blessing. Louis Jones, a senior, will give the welcoming address. Short talks will be given by the national officers, a resume of the past year will be given by retiring President William Kirkpatrick and incoming President Gordon Grigsby will speak.

Movies And Singing

Entertainment for the evening will include movies of the 1948 national convention, a solo by Ross Sachs, and selections by a trio composed of Gaylord Detweiler, Robert Heldrich, and Hamilton Stothart.

More than 75 alumni of Xi chapter are expected to return to the campus for the annual Pig Dinner. Representatives of Phi Gamma Delta chapters at Lafayette and Bucknell will be among the guests of Xi chapter.

Initiation of candidates will take place Saturday afternoon followed by a meeting of the trustees and the home association. On Friday evening, Phi Gamma Delta will play host to various members of other campus fraternities and will discuss the topic, "Rushing." Mr. Salter will act as chairman.

One-Time Manager Here Dies In South

Word has been received here of the death on Monday in Tallahassee, Fla., of T. P. Turner, for a number of years manager of the former Gettysburg Electric company. He was aged about 80 years and had been ill for some time from leukemia. He had been living retired in Florida.

Survivors include his wife by a second marriage and a son, Donald, born to that marriage, and these children by his first marriage: Frances, Thomas, Philip and Mrs. C. A. Neff, who lives in Tampa, Fla.

New Campus Group Awarded Honor Cup

The scholarship honor cup was presented to the newly installed Beta Chi chapter of Alpha Xi Delta at Gettysburg college Tuesday. Members of the chapter won first place in scholastic average in competition with the other three sororities, the 11 fraternities and the two independent groups on the college campus.

Officers were elected at the chapter meeting Tuesday as follows: president, Betty A. Phleger; vice president, Elaine Serfass; recording secretary, Lois Kipsey; corresponding secretary, Eva Zinner; treasurer, Janet Klotter; and rush chairman, Joyce Combs.

Given Jail Terms On Two Charges

William Harris, 40, of Harrisburg, arrested by borough police Tuesday night on Chambersburg street, was committed to the Adams county jail Wednesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on two charges.

Harris was fined $10 and costs on a disorderly conduct charge and committed to jail for 30 days in default of payment, and fined $25 and costs on a charge of breaking a glass bottle on the street. On the latter charge he was committed for ten days in default. The sentences are to run consecutively.

ARMY CONVOY

State police provided an escort for 32 army vehicles through Gettysburg shortly after noon today. They arrived via the Emmitsburg road and proceeded west on the Lincoln highway.

$721 GIVEN TO HEART DRIVE; RENEW APPEAL

With $721.83 of its $2,000 quota turned in, the Adams County Heart committee issued a call today for final reports from all parts of the county.

"Our ability to put this drive over depends entirely on the contributions to be received from those who have postponed or otherwise overlooked sending their subscriptions and from service clubs throughout the county who have not yet filed their returns," the committee stated.

The monies received so far have largely come from Gettysburg and it is possible, the committee explained, that the county returns and the delayed contributions from others who are interested in the heart movement may enable Adams County to reach its quota.

The committee's report stated that of the $721.83 received thus far, $300.35 was contributed by six organizations; 14 gift subscriptions aggregated $191; 45 large hearts on display in local stores gathered $173.70 while 76 small hearts, holding $1 in dimes, totaled $56.78.

The committee explained that its decision to make no formal or organized campaign was in deference to the polo drive that preceded the Heart campaign and the annual Red Cross drive that followed it.

"While there will be keen disappointment in the Central Pennsylvania Heart association, in whose area 70 per cent of the proceeds of the campaign will remain for local (Please Turn To Page 8)

RETURN BODIES OF THREE VETS FOR RE-BURIAL

Arrangements for interment services for three returned war-dead were being made today.

They are Pvt. Lawrence E. Duncan, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Duncan, Hanover R. 3; Pvt. Samuel Edgar Spangler, son of Mrs. Laura B. Bushman Spangler, Hanover, formerly of Littlestown R. 2, and Sgt. Albert D. Crabbs, Jr., Littlestown.

All had died in Europe and were previously buried in military cemeteries there.

The body of Sgt. Crabbs, who died April 10, 1945, in Germany is being brought back to the United States for re-burial, the Army announced today.

Was On Bombing Mission

Sergeant Crabbs, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Crabbs, Sr., 125 Cemetery street, Littlestown, was first reported missing in action as of April 10, 1945, and then on July 17, that year, his family was notified that he had been killed in action during a bombing flight over Germany on the April date. He was 19 at the time of his death.

The Littlestown soldier was a graduate of Taneytown high school with the class of 1942 and was employed by the Blue Ridge Rubber company before his induction into service on (Please Turn To Page 7)

Mrs. Williams, 55, Dies In Michigan

Mrs. Forrest Williams, 55, a resident of Adams county for 19 years, died this morning at 5:10 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. True Hayford, Detroit, Mich. She had been in ill health for nine months.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams formerly resided along the Emmitsburg road and operated the Rose Garden Tea room for many years. They left the county about two years ago. Mrs. Williams was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

In addition to her husband she is survived by a son, Dr. Robert Williams, New York; one daughter, Mrs. Hayford, with whom she resided; three grandchildren; three sisters and one brother.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning in Duquesne, Pa., where interment will also take place.

OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED BY LOCAL VFW POST

Candidates for office were nominated by the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Additional nominations will be permitted at the next Meeting, March 23, it was announced. Elections will be held on that date.

Named as candidates for various posts were: Jacob G. Applier and George C. Fissel for commander; Sebastian Hafer, senior vice commander; Stanley Sprankle, junior vice commander; LaVerne King, quartermaster; Daniel E. Teeter, Donald M. Swope and Thomas Miller, advocate.

C. Leslie Fair, Jr. and LaVerne King for chaplain; Dr. Harrison Harbach and Dr. John Knox for surgeon and L. L. Dietrich and Basil Smith for trustee.

Enroll Two Members

John Baltzley, Jr., Aspers, and Robert N. Eisenhart, also of Aspers, were accepted as members of the post.

The next district meeting will be held March 22 at the Mason-Dixon post in Littlestown. It was announced by Commander David A. Hughes.

Commander Hughes appointed Clair Newman, chairman; Sebastian Hafer, Lloyd Garretson and Jacob Applier as a committee to arrange for a benefit for the post.

John Rummel won the door prize. Twenty-seven members attended the session. A meeting of the home association was held following the post meeting.

BENDERSVILLE AND TYRONE TWP. ASK ROAD AID

The Adams county commissioners Wednesday signed and forwarded requests by Bendersville and Tyrone township for county aid toward planned road and street maintenance.

Bendersville is asking $176.62 to assist in roadwork on Carlisle street in that borough running 1,200 feet northeast from the square. The application was signed by W. B. Delapburg; Mervin I. Rice, president of the borough council and W. D. Taylor, secretary.

Tyrone township is seeking $1,039.55 to assist in roadwork on route 565 from Five Points store, and on (Please turn to Page 8)

Seven Take Exam For Police Officer

Seven applicants for the position of borough police officer took the Civil Service commission's written examination Wednesday night in the council chambers at the engine house.

Standings will not be announced until the eligible list is presented to the borough council. N. B. Schurman, secretary of the commission said, Dr. Walter S. Mountain, president, presided at the examination.

The seven who took the written test, all of whom previously passed a physical examination, were Charles E. Huff, Edgar P. Redding, Thomas Carr, Raymond E. Menges, Clarence Cluck, Joseph F. McKendrick and Bernard Cole.

DEFAULTS BAIL: JAILED

Louis B. Splain, Columbia, Pa., arrested on a non-support charge filed by his wife, Edna P. Splain, Gettysburg R. 4, was committed to jail Wednesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder in default of $500 bail, for court.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Boyer, of the Narrows, will spend Friday and Saturday in Washington, D. C., attending the eastern conference of radiologists.

ONE FIREMAN IS RETIRED; FOUR OTHERS DROPPED

The Gettysburg Fire department, at its regular meeting at the engine house Wednesday night, settled the question of "delinquent" members who were listed as not attending meetings or fires by retiring one member, dropping four, and retaining four others on the active rolls.

George Bender was placed on the retired list at his own request. Daniel Wolf was dropped from membership, also at his own request, for what he said were business reasons. Also dropped from the rolls were Milton Plank, who is presently employed in Baltimore, and Albert L. Wolford, now working in Florida. Earl Lingg was dropped from membership at his own request.

Those retained in the fire company were Arthur Buehler, Charles R. Rupp, Donald Culp and Fred Pfeffer.

Receive Applications

The applications for membership in the company of Robert T. Shealer, Samuel F. Swope, Jr. and Stanley E. Sprankle, were received and referred to an investigating committee (Please Turn To Page 8)

DISCUSS SALE OF NEW STOCK

The problem of whether to permit sale of large amounts of stock in a Pennsylvania cooperative to Maryland business interests was discussed Wednesday night at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Rabbit Breeders Cooperative at the Arendtsville National bank.

No decision was reached at the session, with L. T. Goodling, president of the local cooperative, and others pointing out their belief that, since the cooperative is a Pennsylvania concern, the sale should be confined to a large extent to Pennsylvanians, particularly to those in the York, Adams, Franklin and Cumberland areas. Maryland buyers of preferred stock have already indicated their desire to take more than half of the $125,000 offered, Goodling said. The 50 attending the meeting indicated that in their opinion that would be too large an amount to sell outside of the state.

Cashtown Meeting Planned
Goodling also reported on the development of plans for construction of the cooperative's proposed plant at McKnightstown.

Residents of the Cashtown area are planning a meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, to which the public is invited, at which representatives of the cooperative will explain their plans for the McKnightstown plant, Goodling reported. The session is to be held at the Cashtown fire hall.

Farmers, businessmen and bankers from Hanover, Carlisle, Gettysburg, Chambersburg and Waynesboro attended Wednesday's meeting. It was announced that partial reports show over $25,000 worth of stock sold so far.

$1,500 BLAZE AT SEVEN STARS

Damage estimated by firemen at $1,500 was caused late Wednesday night in a fire at the home of Robert Shirley, near Seven Stars. Gettysburg firemen were called at 11:20 o'clock.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen said the fire was believed to have started from a coal oil stove. It spread to the floors and partitions of the two-and-a-half story frame house, about three-quarters of a mile south of the Lincoln highway.

Members of the family and neighbors formed a bucket brigade and had the fire partly under control when the firemen arrived. Booster lines and chemicals were employed to put out the remaining fire. The loss is only partially covered by insurance, firemen said.

William Little suffered a laceration on the right side of his forehead and a burn on the right cheek when he was struck by a falling board.

Teachers To Hold Spring Dinner Meet

The annual spring dinner and social meeting of the county chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association will be held Wednesday evening, March 23, at the Arendtsville school cafeteria. It was announced today by President Arthur Gordon.

Cards have been sent to approximately 250 teachers notifying them of the affair. President Gordon has requested anyone not receiving a card and wishing to attend to contact Lewis Bosserman, Arendtsville.

READING COSTS, AND INCOME UP

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Increases in passenger and freight rates have boosted the Reading company's revenue since 1939 but they have not kept pace with mounting payroll and material costs.

That statement was made by President Revell W. Brown in a report to stockholders yesterday. Since 1939, he said, 41 per cent or $33,100,000 of additional revenue has come from freight traffic and 31 per cent or $23,300,000 from higher passenger fares.

During that time, however, wage increases amounted to $29,300,000 or 86 per cent. He declared, adding that material and fuel costs chargeable to operating expenses due to higher prices amounted to nearly $13,200,000 or 121 per cent.

"Rate increases have not kept pace with mountain payroll and material costs to the extent of $7,100,000 based on 1948 operations," Brown said.

He said the company had a net income of $10,412,010 for 1948, an increase of $2,196,301 over 1947. Total operating revenues were up 11 per cent or $129,316,339.

The appeal acts as a supersedeas pending final hearing and decree by the court. Null is represented by Attorneys Luria, Still and Yost.

Declares Cows Getting Longer

Lancaster, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Have you noticed how long the cows are lately?

Joe C. Nagotte, Pennsylvania State college dairy specialist, told a dairymen's meeting last night that the nation's cows are growing longer at the rate of two inches every ten years.

Nagotte, who attributed the bovine expansion to improved breeding and feeding practices, said the growth of cows is creating a problem in stall building.

Horse Theft Law To Be Repealed

Harrisburg, Pa., March 10 (AP)—It may come as a blow to anti-horse thief societies but Pennsylvania legislators are repealing a 128-year-old law against horse stealing. It's part of a move to rid the state's legal code of ancient, outmoded statutes.

The House last night okayed a repealer to wipe out "an act to encourage the apprehension of persons who shall have committed the crime of horse stealing."

Also approved, among others, were bills repealing: A law "prohibiting the discharge from public posts of

after the holdup which halted the Baltimore and Ohio's westbound passenger train, the Ambassador, near Martinsburg. The two bandits terrorized more than 100 passengers on the train and escaped with more than $1,000 after shooting a chef.

Police said they found $290 on Ramsdell—an ex-Marine—and about $700 in small bills on Ashton. Police Lieut. John E. Winters reported the pair confessed. Winters said the bullet that felled Ramsdell was fired by Officer Elwood Lomax.

Ramsdell and his partner were found in the pawnshop by officers searching the area on a tip that two young men resembling the train robbers had got off a bus from the train robbery area. The two men, police said, were talking about purchase of a suitcase in the S. and W. Pawnbrokers Exchange when Lomax and Police Pvt. James D. Kennedy entered.

The two officers said that the pair answered the descriptions given for the train robbers, and they approached to ask for identification. Lomax said Ramsdell made a gesture toward his hip pocket as if to produce a wallet. Instead, the policeman said, he came out with a pistol.

Policeman Kennedy, standing alongside his partner, shoved the second suspect into the man with the pistol, at the same time yelling to Lomax, "Let him have it."

Lomax did. The second man gave up.

Ramsdell, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was sentenced to one to two years at the Ohio State reformatory at Mansfield, O., in January, 1947, for car theft and paroled in January of last year.

Police said they took a .38 caliber revolver from Ramsdell, with four exploded shells and one loaded cartridge. From Ashton they said they took a .45 caliber pistol, also loaded.

Detectives who reached the scene, about five blocks from the White House, soon after the shooting said they found several hundred dollars in the men's pockets, in bills ranging from $1 to $20 denomination. They expressed belief it was part of the train robbery loot.

The detectives said they asked both men directly: "Did you help rob the train in West Virginia last night?" "Yes," was the answer in both cases, the officers said.

Like Frontier Days

Martinsburg, W. Va., March 10 (AP)—A brazen gunslinging train robbery — executed with all the trappings of frontier days — put police of three states on the prowl today. The robbery occurred two miles west of Martinsburg shortly before 8 p. m. The Ambassador was headed toward Cumberland, 60 miles away.

The signal cord on the train was pulled and the Ambassador stopped. All witnesses agreed that the robbers forced it to back up a considerable distance to what is known as Warm Springs crossing.

In the few hectic minutes which followed, the crewmen and passengers were cowed and relieved of what money they had.

References to the days of Jesse James were many and frequent as officers pieced together an account of how the Baltimore and Ohio's westbound Ambassador was stopped and the passengers terrorized last night.

Shots were fired while two men ranged the coaches of the fast train.

Exactly how many shots was not determined, but enough to make the shocked passengers certain the bandits meant business.

One of the worst train robberies of the twentieth century caused a loss of more than $1,000 to passengers and crew, and resulted in slight injury to some.

Property Transfers

Lloyd W. and Mary Garretson, Arendtsville, sold to Fred H. and Elizabeth H. Lewis, same place, a property in that borough.

Glenn C. and Betty L. Bream, Gettysburg, sold to Fred H. and Elizabeth S. Lewis, Arendtsville, a property in Arendtsville.

Seymour J. and Kathleen Bobo, Gettysburg R. 4, sold to Larry E. and Kittie H. Stipe, Gettysburg R. 4, a 68-acre property in Straban township.

MAN DROWNS

Lancaster, Pa., March 10 (AP)—A 48-year-old Mount Joy man accidentally drowned while fishing. Dr. David C. Schlosser, deputy coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death after Mrs. Abraham Souders found the body of her husband lying face down in Chickies creek yesterday.

Gorsuch Mills, Md., March 10 (AP)—William T. Schaeffer shot his wife, Martha, to death yesterday and then killed himself, Maryland police reported. Police found the couple, parents of 11 children, lying in the yard of their farm home less than a mile from the Maryland-Pennsylvania line. The 56-year-old farmer was lying next to a chicken house with a 12-gauge shotgun propped in the doorway. The body of 50-year-old Mrs. Schaeffer was nearby.

Mules Hand Bullets 65-61 Defeat In Final Home Game

Muhlenberg college got sweet revenge for a previous defeat at Allentown by nailing out the Gettysburg college cagers 65-61 here Wednesday evening before a capacity crowd in the final game on the regular schedule for the Bullets.

The clash was a thriller throughout, the Bullets holding the lead until late in the third quarter. The Dream-men rallied sensationally in the last minute and a half of play after trailing by 10 points but time ran out before the gap could be closed.

Both teams played slow, determined ball at the start and after four minutes Muhlenberg led 4-0 via goals by Harry Donovan and Captain Al Saemmer. Pure finally rammed through a goal for the Bullets' first tally after over four minutes. Goals by Sachs and Harris knotted the count and then H. Donovan and O'Brien matched goals. The Mules then spurred to sweep ahead 20-11 at the quarter.

Bullets Take Lead

The Bullets refused to collapse and Coach Bream inserted Walt Plechner to stop H. Donovan who had tallied four goals in the first period. With Donovan blanked without a goal in the period, the local hoopsters roared back with some sensational shooting on the part of Harris, Pure, Belber and Plechner and grabbed the lead at 23-21 with less than four minutes gone. Belber and Harris hiked the lead to 30-24 but a pair of goals by E. Donovan and his free toes shaved the margin to 30-29 at half time.

Early in the third round Muhlenberg tied the score at 32-32 but Plechner and Pure landed one-handed stabs and Plechner netted a foul. After Jackson netted a foul, Pure looped a tap-in to give Gettysburg its biggest margin at 39-33. E. Donovan and Harris matched pivot shots. A little later Pure and Plechner, each with four personal fouls, were withdrawn from action and Muhlenberg took advantage to spurt ahead 48-42 at the close of the round on goals by McGee, two by Jackson and another by McGee.

Plechner and Pure returned to action to start the final round. It was a nip and tuck affair in the opening minutes with the Bullets finally cutting the visitors' lead to 54-52 on goals by Plechner and Harris midway in the round. Saemmer, McGee and Jackson rammed through goals which was followed by a pivot shot by Harris. Jackson and H. Donovan put the Mules in front 64-54 with about two minutes remaining. The Bullets rallied desperately on a foul by Pure and goals by Plechner and Harris while Saemmer converted a foul for the Mules. Harris tapped in a goal with 23 seconds to go which ended the scoring.

The defeat marked the ninth against 14 wins for Gettysburg and for Muhlenberg its 16th triumph against eight reverses.

Harry Donovan and Saemmer were the outstanding performers for the Mules, the former grabbing all of his goals in the first and last periods. All of the Bullets put up commendable performances with Plechner's task of halting Donovan in the second and third periods proving noteworthy.

Coach Johnny Yovicsin's freshmen, sparked by the all around work of Coder and Ketterman, encountered little trouble in trouncing the Muhlenberg yearlings 78-53. It marked the 11th win against but

Training Camp Briefs

Clearwater, Fla., March 10 (P)—Outfielder Richie Ashburn and Pitcher Russ Meyer have reported back for workouts at the Philadelphia Phillies training camp—apparently recovering from their recent injuries.

Both players were hurt Tuesday. Ashburn was hit over the right eye by a ball tossed by Catcher Ken Silvestri while Meyer was struck on the wrist by a wild pitch from the hand of Pitcher Charley Bicknell.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 10—The Philadelphia Athletics' training camp pitching is good enough for mid-season competition.

In yesterday's intra squad game, Carl Scheib allowed two hits in three innings and Dick Fowler only one in the same number of frames as Jimmy Dykes' newcomers defeated the regulars 3-0. The regulars' hurlers, Joe Coleman and Phil Marchildon, permitted only two bingles.

BULLETS' FIRST TOURNEY GAME WITH SCRANTON

Announcement was made today, following the acceptance of Wagner college, Staten Island, N. Y., to become the eighth team, of the pairings for the Middle Atlantic States college conference basketball tournament.

Gettysburg will clash with Scranton university in the first game at Reading Northwest Junior high next Wednesday evening while Dickinson and Wagner will clash in the second game of the double-header.

On the same evening at Rockne hall, Allentown, PMC will meet Lebanon Valley and Albright will clash with Swarthmore.

The four winners will clash in the semi-finals at the Palestra, Philadelphia, Friday, March 18, with the championship game and consolation contest being staged on the same court Saturday evening, March 19.

On Friday PMC and Swarthmore meet on the latter's court for the championship of the Southern division, a tie having resulted in the regular league season.

Scranton upset Albright Wednesday evening to throw the Western division into a deadlock and will play-off the tie later this week.

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, March 10 (P)—Andy Niederreiter, who was matchmaker for the Tournament of Champions until a recent reorganization, was an interested observer when Promoter Joe Louis held his first New York press conference the other day.

Joe, looking somewhat bulkier than on his last appearance, was blocking on the same set of questions for the third time when Andy remarked: "I don't think he'll last, Joe doesn't know what it's like to work 24 hours a day like you have to."

Niederreiter, currently jobless, says he "has something coming up" before long.

At the same gathering, one columnist explained: "I was on my way to the antique show when I stopped in here. It's the same thing; Joe is an antique." . . . And a Pittsburgh visitor, commenting that Jake Mintz, Ezzard Charles' manager, had dropped into a nice spot, added: "Jake says, 'my wife has been wanting a perishable lamb coat. Now maybe I can get her one.'"

BLOW ME DOWN

After observing the systematized doings at Dodgertown, Red (Herald-Tribune) Smith hazarded the guess that some day in a tight game at Ebbets Field next summer, with the bases full and one out, someone will blow a whistle and the whole team will run to the outfield for sliding practice. . . . It would be just going back to Uncle Robbie's Dodgers to have the whole team go on a toot.

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Gulfstream's Horning Handicap next Saturday is named for Mrs. Marie Horning, who first had the idea of building the Florida track. It operated just five days under its original ownership. . . . When Western Michigan college closed its basketball season last week, John C. Hoekle, chairman of the athletic board of control, completed his 34th year without missing a home basketball game. That made Coach Buck Read, who retired after only 28 seasons, look like a sissy. . . . Names dept.: Grover Bill Friesbe, who'll get a pitching trial with Syracuse, hails from Joe, North Carolina. . . . A good Joe, no doubt. . . . See Taylor, the veteran Des Moines, Ia., sports editor, is taking a leisurely tour through the Florida baseball camps to regain his health. . . .

Battle For Title On Bigler Floor

This evening at 8 o'clock on the Bigler high school floor the District 3, PIAA, Class C basketball title will be settled when Scotland Orphans school tangles with Wrightsville.

Scotland, Franklin county league champions, defeated Boiling Springs, Dallastown and Tower City to gain the finals. Wrightsville, a member of the Susquehanna league, has a record of 16 wins and four losses, losing only to York Catholic and Red Lion twice each. The York countians defeated Mt. Joy and Enola to reach the district final.

Doors to the gymnasium will open at 7 o'clock.

NEWVILLE HIGH JOINS COUNTY SCHOOL LEAGUE

Newville high school, of Cumberland county, was admitted as a member of the Adams County Scholastic Athletic association at a dinner-meeting of the organization Wednesday evening at Bankert's restaurant. President Ralph Wetzel, Boiling Springs, presided.

A basketball trophy was awarded to the Boiling Springs high school boys' team, emblematic of the 1949 championship.

The girls' title was declared vacant and no trophy was awarded when it was revealed an ineligible New Oxford girl had participated in several games. New Oxford had won the girls' division title. No championship will be recognized for this season.

Arrangements were made to have all-star boys' and girls' teams of the league play the men and women coaches in a double-header on the Bigler high school floor Thursday evening, March 17.

All Star Choices
Participating on the boys' team, which will be piloted by Marty Flegel, New Oxford coach, will be: Clark Heller and Robert Lentz, Bigler; Art Bream and Bob Fiesel, Boiling Springs; Jim Miller and Charles Griest, New Oxford; Bob Wolf and Dale Guise, York Springs; Wayne Mummert and John Myers, East Berlin; William Sentz and Francis Gerriek, Littlestown. The coaches, who will be in charge of Joe Kennedy, York Springs mentor, will include Russ Kane and Gene Haas, Bigler; Bud Ecker and Don Seibert, Boiling Springs; Edgar Moul and George Bowen, New Oxford; Robert Ernest, Boiling Springs; Warren Zimmerman and Jack Taylor, East Berlin; Clay Evans and Maurice Bream, Littlestown.

The league all-star girls' team will be chosen from Hess and Kurtz, Boiling Springs; Taylor and King, New Oxford; Chronister and Harbold, York Springs; Walter and Warren, Bigler; Billett and Lease, East Berlin. Included on the teachers' squad will be Mrs. Long and Miss Ferguson, York Springs; Mrs. Nye and Miss Miller, Boiling Springs; Miss Adams and Miss Steever, Littlestown; Miss Siterly and Miss Trimmer, Bigler; Miss Briner, Miss Hollabaugh and Mrs. Gideon, East Berlin.

President Wetzel appointed the following committee to draw-up basketball schedules for next year: Selon Dockey, New Oxford; Eugene Hass, Bigler; Warren Zimmerman, East Berlin; Miss Ferguson, York Springs, and Miss Steever, Littlestown.

Another meeting of the organization will be held Wednesday, March 30, when officers will be elected and other important business transacted.

PIAA PLAYOFFS HIT HIGH GEAR THIS WEEK-END

Harrisburg, March 10 (P)—PIAA basketball eliminations move into high gear this week-end with six Class A playoffs carded for the next three nights.

Topping the week-end activity is a District 4 championship clash tomorrow night between Williamsport and Coal Township at the Bucknell Memorial gym in Lewisburg.

The Williamsport Millionaires, playing a rugged independent schedule, moved into the finals on the basis of an impressive win over Sunbury's Susquehanna league champions last Friday. Coal Township won the Keystone league title and drew a bye in the first round.

One of the state's few remaining unbeaten powerhouses, Alliquippa, will meet an acid test tonight in a Section 7 (WPAL) quarter-final encounter with Leechburg at the Pitt stadium.

The Quilpen swept through their Section 3 race and dumped Canonsburg in the first round. Leechburg was forced into a playoff with Springdale to capture the Section 2 championship.

The final quarter-final WPAL contest tomorrow night features South Union against Rankin. South Union downed Uniontown in a play-off for the Section 10 crown while Rankin turned back New Kensington in the opening round.

Allentown Upset
Little Whitehall High, of Hokenadua, which rose up last night to stymie the favored Allentown Canaries, 50 to 46, will have its hands full again Saturday night with Hazleton's Eastern Penn loop champs.

The two teams will clash in the Penn. Palstra at Philadelphia in a semi-final game for District 11 honors. It will be the opening PIAA meeting for Hazleton, who dropped Bethlehem in a special play-off for the East Penn title.

York and Muhlenberg township meet at Lebanon tomorrow night in a District 3 semi-final affair. The winner draws the strong Chambersburg Trojans in the championship go at Hershey March 18.

The York Roses slapped back Reading in the final Central Penn league game to cop the title. Muhlenberg Township advanced to the playoffs by becoming the Berks county representative.

In the northwest, Franklin meets Erie East in a semi-final game of the District 10 playoffs. Franklin won the Section 2 toga while east, runner-up to Cathedral Prep in the Erie City series, took Section 1 honors. The winner will play Sharpesville.

Two important Class B games are on tap tomorrow night in District 9. Kane's Western Mountain league title-holders travel to Bradford for a game with Otto township while Sandy township and East Brady tangle at Punxsutawney.

decide to stage on it. The intent and purpose of the sponsors of this field is to provide a suitable center for physical recreation of all types for our community in an enclosed field where definite controls for operation can be maintained.

Seek Name For Field
Mr. King also stated that the Athletic Council was established in accord with the plans approved by the executive board of the school district on October 12, 1948, and this council shall have full control of the operation, finance, equipment and maintenance of the project, all policies and actions subject to the final approval of the said Board of Education.

In this report explaining the athletic field, Mr. King gave the board members a detailed report of the activities of the athletic council and also their last meeting on February 24, at which time representatives from every committee were in attendance with Maurice Bream presiding. The constitution was read with several amendments proposed and accepted by the group. "Judging from reports," King said, "much enthusiasm is in evidence in the athletic programs, with the program rapidly rounding into shape."

The Athletic council has proposed that a contest be set up naming the field. The following rules and regulations were agreed on for this contest:

Contest Rules
The contest will be opened March 15 and close April 15.

Any person residing in Littlestown or vicinity will be eligible to enter; entries will be made on a form provided by the council and will include suggested name; reason for name in 25 words or less; signature of the entrant; the judges will be selected from civic organizations of the town; the winner will be announced at the athletic banquet on May 20, at which the winner will be a guest and an award to the winner of a one year's pass to all Athletic events held on the field, will be given.

The executive board was also informed that the athletic council has decided to hold an athletic banquet on May 20, having as guests all boys and girls in the senior high school who participated in sports during the year, together with the coaches, managers and members of the executive committee of the athletic

VFW League

The Conewago VFW basketball team of Arendtsville, undefeated during the regular league season, won the championship playoffs by defeating Gettysburg 60-48 on the Fairfield floor Wednesday evening.

Conewago, showing a well-balanced attack, hopped off into a 13-6 lead in the first quarter and was never in serious trouble.

Elfert, Gettysburg center, accounted for 27 points to top the scoring while B. Allison, Slaybaugh and D. Allison each netted 13 points for the champions.

The Conewago team has entered the Goal-Medal tournament which will be held at Waynesboro next week.

In the consolation game, also played at Fairfield, the Fairfield dribblers won from East Berlin 69-61. Fairfield grabbed a 22-9 lead in the first period and held the lead thereafter.

Leonard Sites paced the winners with 22 tallies while B. Myers accounted for 17 for East Berlin.

Endorse Council Work
This report concerning the new athletic field and the work of the athletic council was given unanimous endorsement by the executive board.

Following this report, Mr. King gave his monthly report which was combined with that of School Nurse Brenda Walker since the four cases of meningitis in the district during the past school month and the preventive measures adopted by health authorities were of major interest to board members. The report follows:

The month which closed February 28 gave a total of 115 days taught to date and attendance was very low due to numerous colds and enforced absence of suspected ill students.

Three of the four meningitis cases involved students of the Junior high. These homes were quarantined by county medical authorities. On Monday, February 21, health officials ordered all school buildings in the district disinfected. All desks, woodwork and furniture were washed by the teachers with a strong germicidal disinfectant. School buses were given the same treatment and fumigated with formalin.

Reports Activities
February 22, all students were given a physical examination by the school nurse, assisted by county nurses. Any pupil with an elevated temperature was sent home and placed under a three-day observation. These same pupils who were sent home were given another checkup and those not fully recovered were sent home again. A close checkup is still being maintained on all pupils by the school nurse.

An interclass basketball tournament is in progress in the school, with both boys and girls from grades seven to 12 inclusive participating. These games are being staged at noon and during extra curricular periods.

Consider 'Ag' Program
Treasurer James R. Strevig reported receipts for February of $10,870.02 for general operations; $5,037.30 for payment on new addition and $33.50 for rentals and miscellaneous, or a total of $15,940.82.

Expenditures were $9,122.26 for instruction; $1,404.72, auxiliary agencies; $174.50, coordinate activities; $316.09 for operation of plant; $470.12 for maintenance of plant and $5,037.30 for capital outlay, a total of $16,524.99. This report was approved and accepted as read. Bills were ordered paid in the amount of $18,106.27.

Colorful Ceremony Marks Induction of Hoover as Nation's Chief Executive: Washington, March 4 (AP)—The presidency of the United States passed to Herbert Hoover today in a colorful ceremony which he himself described as "a dedication and consecration under God."

With hand upraised he had repeated the words of the official oath of office, administered by Chief Justice Taft. A half hour earlier Charles Curtis had succeeded Charles G. Dawes as vice president inside the Senate chamber.

An inaugural parade, in some respects the most ambitious in history, was the last act of the inaugural drama, including in its allotted units the great dirigible Los Angeles and 100 airplanes.

Local Couple Is Married Saturday: John Edward McDannell, of Gettysburg, and Sarah Jane Hartlaub, of Gettysburg, R. D., were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the U. S. parsonage by the pastor, the Rev. F. L. Stine. Mr. McDannell is employed at the Reaser furniture factory.

Grocer Purchases Calvin Nau Store: N. L. Minter on Monday announced the purchase of the stock and fixtures of the J. Calvin Nau grocery store, York street. The new store, which will be conducted in connection with Mr. Minter's other store, will be managed by Henry Albright.

Assumes Position: Miss Marie Butt, Steinwehr avenue, on Monday began her duties as a stenographer in the office of Philip R. Biele. Miss Butt, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Butt, was graduated last week from a York business school.

Miss Dorothy Bowers Weds Homer Staley: Miss Dorothy Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers, North Stratton street, and Homer Staley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staley, York, were married recently at Westminster by the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

County Couple Married Monday: Miss Esther Alice Paxton, daughter of Mrs. William Yengst, Gardner's Route 2, and Lloyd R. Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cline, of Gardner's Route 1, were married at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening at the parsonage of the Mt. Tabor United Brethren church, the Rev. A. C. Crone officiating.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A STANDARD OF VALUES
A standard of values has always absorbed the great minds and thinkers of this earth. It is interesting—and profitable as well—to study the lives of those who have left a glow of light behind them. You will learn that those who established a high standard of values early in life kept to it. Not always did they reach that standard, but there it was, set apart, like the pyramids that Napoleon used as an illustration to his soldiers in Egypt. "From yonder pyramids," he said, "forty centuries look down upon you!"

Read about any notable life, and though a standard of values may not be apparent in name, you easily are conscious of it, as it colors and gives lustre to the framework of any great character. Think of any outstanding and beloved character and you can almost call that standard by name. T. E. Lawrence suggested it of Thomas Hardy, when he referred to his unbelievable dignity and ripeness of spirit.

Many a writer has spurned an easy fame, refusing to clutter his reputation with mere dollars, preferring rather to produce one great book that might be a standard of excellence for others, as well as a milestone in his own career. Take the illustration of Charles Reade. His "The Cloister and the Hearth" remains as his masterpiece, though he wrote some 30 odd others. But in this one he established a standard, and by that he lives. Conan Doyle calls it the greatest historical novel ever written.

It was a standard of values that the patriots of this western world set up for themselves in the early days of struggle, pioneering, and sacrifice that has made this same western world the hope and dream of all peoples upon this globe. They look to us for guidance and leadership—liberty, anew, enlightening the world.

In our democratic form of government we have set a standard of values—of justice, equality of opportunity, freedom of thought and expression, as well as of religion, and at the same time allowing every individual to establish his own personal standard of values. By this alone can democracy survive.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Expectant Mood."

SUPPRESSION

Behind the curtain should they jest,
Both pen and voice would be suppressed.

Tyrants are sensitive and proud,
To laugh at them is not allowed.

And should some thinker dare to say:
"Perhaps there is a better way

To rule and serve," 'tis likely he
Would not rejoin his family.

Then should his wife and children seek
His whereabouts from week to week.

They'd learn, if safely they would live,
They mustn't be inquisitive.

How love a land where all are cowed
And laughter cannot be allowed.

And those who utter thoughts sincere
Mysteriously disappear?

County Farmers Watching Congress 'Parity' Battle

Adams county farmers are not in the thick of the battle, but their pocketbooks will show the results of the current battle in congress over price supports for farm products. And the outcome of the contest before congress will also be felt by the pocketbooks of everyone in the county who has to pay for the food he buys.

The argument currently before congress is—should the parity payments continue on the old rigid schedule, the one we are now under; or should a new and more flexible program, a "modernized" parity program, be permitted to go into effect for the 1950 crops.

The Pennsylvania Grange and the Farm Bureau Federation are all out for the flexible, "modernized" parity, because they feel it will not only help the consumer, but also will prevent the placing of restrictions on production and much "governmental control."

As an example of how the "modernized" system will work, if it is permitted to go into effect as planned, here is a comparison of the actual prices farmers got in mid-January, compared with the mid-January "parity" price, computed under both the present system and the new system:

Parity Present	Parity "Modern"	Jan. Price Actual
Wheat (bu.)	$ 2.19	$ 1.83
Corn (bu.)	1.59	1.45
Cotton (lb.)	30.75 cents	27.3 cents
Cotteseed (ton)	$55.90	$67.70
Peanuts (lb.)	11.9 cents	9 cents
Potatoes (lb.)	$ 1.81	$ 1.55
Hogs (100 lbs.)	18.00	18.70
Beef cattle (100 lbs.)	13.40	16.70

ATLANTIC PACT IS DESIGNED TO MAINTAIN PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The North Atlantic Alliance, which finally has been approved in draft form by all parties, is generally described as a defensive pact—a back-handed way of putting a far more telling fact:

It is designed to be a powerful instrument for the maintenance of peace.

Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, whose country is one of the subscribers to the alliance, emphasized this point in a speech in Montreal the other day. He said: "For my part, I am convinced that the surest and most practical way of assuring maintenance of peace is to bring about as soon as possible the union of nations friendly to peace."

Peace Insurance
Of course the ideal situation would be for all nations to be so peace-minded that war would be outlawed. However, we haven't reached that happy stage. As St. Laurent remarked: "There is no doubt that war is avoidable—and I am sure that if we follow our present firm policy we can avoid war. But one would have to be lacking most elementary realism to consider war an impossibility."

So the Atlantic Alliance is calculated to be peace insurance. Apropos of this U. S. Secretary of State Acheson yesterday told a news conference in Washington that the treaty as now drawn provides means for eliminating a sense of insecurity and thereby aiding recovery among the signatory nations. John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic reporter in Washington, interpreted this as meaning "that the Marshall Plan countries of Europe, having extraordinary assurance of United States military support, will feel less fear of war and great confidence in the future—a confidence necessary to economic progress."

Not a Surprising Report
Naturally such an alliance, no matter how peacefully designed, must be expected to cause heartburnings in eastern Europe. Thus it isn't surprising there should be a report that the powerful Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) might be preparing to launch an alliance to match the North Atlantic Pact. A recent report from Poland said a Cominform military conference was to be held about March 15 in Hungary and this has given rise to speculation about a possible alliance.

Such a development wouldn't greatly alter the relative positions of the eastern and western groups.

Will Operate On King Of England

London, March 10 (AP)—King George VI will be operated on—probably within a week—to get more blood flowing into his endangered right foot.

Six doctors in an announcement from Buckingham palace on Tuesday said the operation will be "at an early date." Court correspondents said they understood that meant next week and the surgery probably would be done at the palace.

This was the first official word that the ailing 53-year-old king would undergo surgery for the arterial condition that was made public last Nov. 23.

The operation will be a right-side lumbar sympathectomy—the cutting away of the sympathetic nerve knots lying in front of the spine in the lower back. These nerves help keep the arteries tightened up, slowing the flow of blood into the legs.

Since 1908, the Masjed-i-Sulaiman oil field in Iran has yielded 924 million barrels of crude oil.

The Robert E. Lee's Record Is At Stake

Vicksburg, Miss., March 10 (AP)—The towboat Harry Truman headed toward Memphis today in its dash up the Mississippi river in an attempt to set a new speed record.

The streamlined craft, with one barge in integrated tow and a cargo of 1,100 tons, passed Vicksburg at 11:07 p. m. (Central Standard Time) last night without making a stop. The craft was sighted passing Natchez, down the river from Vicksburg, at 4:50 p. m., yesterday, with its twin diesel engines beating a steady drum.

The streamlined boat of the federal barge lines left New Orleans Canal street docks at 5 p. m. Tuesday on its 1,155-mile trip to St. Louis.

It is racing against the record of the sidewheeler Robt E. Lee which made the trip from New Orleans to St. Louis in 3 days, 18 hours and 14 minutes in 1870 for a record that has stood through the years.

R. J. FUNKHOUSER NAMED IN SUIT

Charles Town, W. Va., March 10 (AP)—R. J. Funkhouser, West Virginia industrialist and publisher has been sued for divorce by his third wife, Flora M. Funkhouser.

They were married in 1934 at Elkton, Md.

The pleadings, charging mental cruelty, were filed in Jefferson County Circuit court by Stephen Ailers, attorney.

Funkhouser is owner and head of firms in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle and at Hagerstown, Md., and Baltimore.

Funkhouser became widely known as a dry crusader in the prohibition period.

He is a former resident of Hagerstown and was at one time a member of the Maryland General Assembly.

He moved to West Virginia, became a Republican and was an unsuccessful candidate in 1942 for the United States Senate and in 1944 for the governorship.

Expect Senate OK On Atlantic Pact

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Senate approval appeared assured today for the projected North Atlantic Security treaty.

Finally completed after eight months of negotiations, the unprecedented 20-year alliance won an informal okay from the Senate Foreign Relations committee on Tuesday. No strongly organized opposition was in sight.

The pact would have the effect of binding the United States to the defense of western Europe, although it would still be up to Congress to determine in event of an attack whether war should be declared by the United States against the aggressor.

The alliance is intended to make such a demonstration of unity on the part of the western powers that Russia, if it was ever so tempted, would not dare to attack any one of them.

This was the first official word that the ailing 53-year-old king would undergo surgery for the arterial condition that was made public last Nov. 23.

The operation will be a right-side lumbar sympathectomy—the cutting away of the sympathetic nerve knots lying in front of the spine in the lower back. These nerves help keep the arteries tightened up, slowing the flow of blood into the legs.

Since 1908, the Masjed-i-Sulaiman oil field in Iran has yielded 924 million barrels of crude oil.

SOVIET RUSSIA PARLIAMENT TO CONVENE TODAY

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

Moscow, March 10 (AP)—Soviet Russia's parliament convenes today for important sessions which may give significant clues to Kremlin intentions.

The world—and its envoys to Russia—had an ear cocked for answers to many burning questions which may be heard in the sessions of the supreme Soviet, the national parliamentary body.

What lies behind Russia's recent shakeup of government leaders? What military expenditures does Russia propose for the coming months?

Expect Some Answers

How has Russian economy reacted to recent far-reaching governmental decrees?

Some—possibly all—of the answers are expected to be heard before this fifth convention of the second supreme Soviet closes. Whether they will be full or partial answers remained to be seen.

From the far corners of Russia's broad reaches the nearly 2,000 legislators came in colorful groups, speaking many languages and attired in the characteristic garb of their regions.

The compose two parliamentary chambers having equal status, the council of the union and the council of nationalities. The chambers' separate meetings this morning are to be followed by a joint session at which the proposed national budget the state House of Representatives.

for 1949 will be presented for their consideration.

Last year's budget of 380,000,000,000 rubles, the biggest in Soviet history, included 66,000,000,000 rubles for defense. The defense item was about 2,500,000,000 less than for 1947 while the total budget was up 9,000,000,000.

Foreign observers, especially from the west, noting rising budgets in the United States and Britain for their armed forces, are intensely curious to know what Russia plans to spend for her military services.

A budget proposing total expenditures of $41,858,000,000 including $14,300,000,000 for defense is pending in the United States Congress. The House of Commons has approved Britain's biggest defense budget since post-war demobilization, $3,639,000,000.

There is no free market to determine the value of the ruble in international exchange. The ruble is worth about 19 cents, however, at present official exchange rates.

STRATEGY SHIFT

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—The administration shifted its strategy today on legislation to free Pennsylvania's last 10 privately owned toll bridges. An open split between Gov. James H. Duff and Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) brought the change. Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland) disclosed that administration-backed bills will start through the House instead of the Senate.

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—John A. P. Hall, former mayor of Harrisburg, died of a heart attack today. He was 50. Hall, a Republican, also served three terms as a member of which the proposed national budget the state House of Representatives.

Indict Girl Analyst On Four Charges

New York, March 10 (AP)—A federal grand jury today returned a four-count espionage indictment against Judith Coplon, Department of Justice analyst, and Valentin A. Gubitchev, Russian engineer employed by the United Nations.

One count said Miss Coplon delivered to Gubitchev "information relating to the national defense, to wit, documents, writings and notes containing intelligence reports relating to espionage and counter-espionage activities in the United States."

The two were arrested here last Friday night after FBI agents had trailed them through Manhattan streets.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan declared yesterday that he would extradite the pair if Dewey would sign the agreement. The two now are in Michigan where there is no death penalty.

Meanwhile, at Grand Rapids Judge Dale Souter of the Michigan Circuit court banned further newspaper interviews with the alleged killers.

"I think it's time to take the lonely hearts case off the stage," he asserted.

REVEALS SERUM SAVED SOLDIER STUNG BY BEES

By FRANK CAREY

Washington, March 10 (AP)—A government doctor told today of a soldier who survived at least 600 bee stings after a terrible, swarming attack.

The man's rapid recovery was due to a chemical called calcium gluconate, said Dr. Michael P. Koszala of the Veterans Administration Center at Wood, Wis.

Writing in the bulletin of the U. S. Army Medical department, Koszala gave this graphic account of what happened to a 25-year-old officer in Kauai, Hawaii, one day in 1944:

Jumped Into Swarm

"About 10 hours before admission (to a station hospital), while returning from a scout patrol in the mountains, he jumped to a ledge below and landed amid a swarm of bees.

"He stated that thousands of bees began to sting him and crawl all over his body. In his fright and pain, he tried to scramble to safety along the ledge but fell to the ground from exhaustion as the swarm of bees attacked all exposed parts of his body and squirmed into his ears, nose and mouth.

"He lost consciousness for an indefinite period. On regaining his senses, he became violently sick.

Found By Rescuers

"About mid-afternoon the bees were still swarming all over him, but they did not seem to bother him any longer. He again fell asleep. A rescue squad finally found him lying helplessly on a precipitous mountain ledge and brought him to the hospital.

More than 300 "stings"—the tiny, venom-containing slivers that the bee plunges into the skin—were extracted from the man's eyelids, ears, tongue, lips, face, neck, hands and wrists. Another 300 or so were removed from his swollen scalp.

His eyelids, lips, nose and ears were about three times their average size and "he was barely able to speak or swallow and totally unable to open his eyes." He had difficulty in breathing also.

500 Is Lethal Dose

Koszala said the calcium treatment, which was used immediately, apparently made the man's blood vessels and cells less vulnerable to the bees' venom. By the third day "there was a noticeable decline in fever and striking improvement in the ability to breathe, speak and swallow. From then on recovery was rapid."

The doctor said estimates have been made that 500 stings given within a short time are sufficient to produce a "lethal dose" of bee venom.

Before it was used on the soldier, calcium gluconate had received only limited trial against bee stings.

CITY MANAGER BILL IN DOUBT

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—A precarious future today confronted a measure to allow Pennsylvania's 47 third class cities to adopt a city manager form of government. Approved by a House committee yesterday, it comes up for initial floor action in the lower chamber.

The measure, sponsored by Reps. Ray L. Riley (R-Lycoming) and H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), was released from committee "to see what the reaction would be." The disclosure came from Chairman Delbert W. Dalrymple (R-Erie).

Walter E. Greenwood, Coatesville, president of the League of Third Class Cities, immediately voiced opposition to the bill. "We're against it because there are too many loopholes in the measure," he said.

Greenwood cited a section which gives the city manager, appointed for an indefinite term by city council, complete appointive and administrative powers, reducing the mayor to a ceremonial figure. It would allow the manager to appoint the city treasurer and controller without confirmation by council.

At present, both these officials are elected by the voters. The Riley-Andrews bill limits election of city officials only to councilmen, aldermen and constables. The measure sets up machinery for voters of any third class city to decide whether they want a city manager.

Carroll, Earl and Lawrence Elder, of Pittsburgh spent last week-end visiting with their mother, Mrs. John D. Elder.

Henry R. Shoemaker, county agriculture agent, paid high tribute recently to Morris A. Zentz, farmer, of near Emmitsburg. The county agent said in praising Mr. Zentz, that "he has one of the best Holstein herds in the county."

The next afternoon of games sponsored by the Woman's club will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Gillelan, March 10.

Mrs. Laura Rosensteel, president of the Francis X. Elder Post No. 121 Auxiliary conducted the recent meeting held at the post home. The treasurer's report was read showing a balance of $203.67. Mrs. Richard Yeomans was named chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. William Topper. In order to aid the ways and means department it was decided to have small bags made up, and these, with explanatory notes, will be mailed to all members for contributions. This assignment will be completed by the April meeting. It was decided to hold a 30th anniversary party on March 25 for the Legionnaires. Cards will be mailed to all members informing them of further details.

At the recent meeting of the Francis X. Elder Post of the American Legion, it was decided to pay the doctor bill of Jack Rosensteel, who was injured in a Legion basketball game. The past voted to assume other cases where a member of a team is injured while participating in a sport for the Legion. In the recent cancer drive, the Legion collected $83. More than 147 attended the stag party. With the fourteen new members accepted into the post, the total enrollment of the organization is now 175.

The Beetlebum Girl Scout patrol hiked to Indian Lookout Sunday afternoon. On their hike they also viewed the Grotto, back of Mount St. Mary's college. Those who took part were, Lois Keilhoit, Diane Hynes, Jeanne Troxell, Shirley Troxell, Ruth Umbel, Dorothy Fitzgerald, Saranna Miller, Helen Bushman, Josephine Fitzgerald and Jane Fitzgerald.

Mrs. George W. Green is chairman of the Annual Red Cross Drive for the Emmitsburg district. She is assisted by Mrs. William A. Baker, Jr., and Miss Mary Louise Hardman. Persons not contacted are asked to mail contributions to Mrs. Green or call Emmitsburg 68.

Turnpike Bill In Ohio Passes Senate

Columbus, O., March 10 (AP)—Thumping Senate approval of Ohio turnpike legislation heightened chances for enactment this session, sponsors said today. The bill to give Ohio toll super-highways linked with the famed Pennsylvania turnpike passed yesterday 26 to 5.

That sends it to the House. It stalled there two years ago after passing the Senate 26 to 8. House foes said they will have their road blocks ready again. But proponents claim more strength this trip.

WADE ASSAILS DUFF ON TAXES

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Bitterly attacking Gov. James H. Duff's program, Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) says the state executive "should stop running for another office long enough" to give the state "a sound system of taxation."

Wade carried his fight with the Republican Governor to the floor of the Senate yesterday shortly after a Senate committee of which he is a member approved the House-passed tax program.

"I believe that in the tremendous crucial and vital days the Governor talks about," Wade stated, "we ought to be searching for ways and means to reduce government spending instead of piling up obligation upon obligation which must inevitably force us to find new and heavy taxes."

The Cumberland county Senator broke with Duff over the week-end after the Governor, without mentioning names, criticized lawmakers who support public improvements but "oppose the taxes to pay for them." The Governor has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1950.

"It is most unfortunate that a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania cannot discuss with the Chief Executive problems of prime interest to the state without being attacked in the public press, if he is not in total agreement," Wade stated.

Sen. John M. Walker, Senate Republican leader, replied that Duff "at no time has ever denied a member of the General Assembly an opportunity to discuss any part of his program."

238-mile turnpike route across northern Ohio contemplated linking it with the Pennsylvania toll road. An extension of that super-highway from near Pittsburgh to Ohio's eastern border already has been authorized.

The Ohio route would pass near Youngstown, Akron, Cleveland and Toledo. It would extend to the Indiana border, pointing towards Chicago.

DEWEY LOSING BUDGET BATTLE

Albany, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—Governor Dewey's defeat in the battle of the budget was sealed today as Republican leaders bargained with triumphant party rebels on how much to slash the governor's $936,200,000 spending program.

The extent of Dewey's first major legislative setback remained unsettled but signs pointed to an estimated $34,000,000 cutback in his record-high budget.

Westchester insurgents seemed assured of a reduction ranging from $20,000,000 to $48,000,000.

Certain to be wiped out is Dewey's proposed one cent per gallon gasoline tax increase. This would lop $20,000,000 from the $168,200,000 in tax boosts Dewey had recommended to balance his budget.

Also probable is some whittling down of Dewey's proposal for 100 per cent income tax collection which he calculated would raise $114,000,000 in new revenue. A five per cent "forgiveness" would reduce that figure by $14,000,000.

FIRST DRAFT OF CHINA'S PEACE TERMS READIED

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Nanking, March 10 (AP)—A Presidential committee today completed the first draft of its peace proposals to the Communists.

The proposals will be submitted to acting President Li Tsung-jen. Sources close to the committee said the recommendations were couched in general terms. Considerable room was reported left for reorganization of the government upon Communist terms through revision of the constitution.

The touchy question of war criminals was dodged for later consideration. The recommendations call for reorganization of Communist and government forces into a single national army.

Expect Revisions
One committeeman described the proposals as a compromise between the eight-point demands of Communist Leader Mao Tse-tung and terms outlined by Chiang Kai-shek on New Year's Day—before he retired as president.

Political observers are not taking the first draft too seriously. They think it will be revised many times before being submitted to the Communists.

Observers expect President Li to nominate Gen. Ho Ying-chin as premier in the Legislative Yuan tomorrow. Premier Sun Fo, who heads the presidential peace committee, resigned with his cabinet Tuesday.

Conscription An Issue
Ho has not announced publicly that he will accept the post.

A government spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-yi, during the day denied the government was considering abolition of conscription. Sun Fo previously had announced such a plan was being worked out.

Teng said conscription was necessary. However, the Legislative Yuan tomorrow will consider a resolution to abolish it.

$100,000 BLAZE IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Fire swept through a four-story building at 418 N. 3rd street today and spread to an adjoining structure, causing damage estimated by firemen at $100,000.

The blaze started in the building occupied by Henry A. Fischel, Inc., tobacco processing concern. Four alarms brought firemen from virtually every station in the central city area.

The blaze was finally declared under control at 6:30 a. m., an hour after the fourth alarm had been sounded.

The flames also spread to a building occupied by the White Eagle Chemical Co., makers of soap jelly. Firemen confined damage there to the roof.

In the tobacco firm's structure, however, all four floors were badly damaged. A portion of the roof and at least one floor collapsed.

Firemen said that from $30,000 to $40,000 dollars worth of tobacco was lost in the blaze along with machinery and other equipment. No one was in the building at the time and no one was reported injured. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

NEW CRIMINAL CODE OFFERED

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—A new criminal code strengthening penalties against gambling and providing for double verdicts in first degree murder trials today headed toward a Senate vote.

The measure was drafted by a committee of the General Assembly's Joint State Government Commission after a four-year study. It received the approval yesterday of the Judiciary General Committee.

Sen. John W. Lord, Jr. (R-Phila.) the measure's sponsor, said the committee changed the bill to permit the use of spunklers in Fourth of July celebrations.

The provisions on gambling provide a $1,000 fine or a year in jail or both for anyone setting up, maintaining or operating slot machines or any device for gambling. The same penalties would face anyone operating a gambling joint, inviting persons to visit gambling places or known as gamblers.

The double verdict in murder trials would be allowed to permit a jury to retire a second time to decide on death or life imprisonment after previously finding an accused person guilty of murder.

SOFT COAL PRICE OFF

Pittsburgh, March 10 (AP)—Homeowners had a new cost-of-living puzzle today—does a crack in soft coal prices indicate a lowering of furnace coal rates in the near future? The opening wedge in bituminous prices came yesterday as Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal Co., often considered a bellwether in the soft coal industry—announced reductions of from 15 to 40 cents a ton, depending on grade, for coal from some of its West Virginia fields.

BARKLEY MAY TRY TO BLOCK SOUTHERN FOES

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The administration was set to shoot the works today in an effort to break the southern filibuster.

Democratic leader Senator Lucas of Illinois said if today's big move fails, President Truman's civil rights program could be effectively blocked for some time to come.

The administration pinned its hopes on an expected ruling by Vice President Barkley that a two-thirds vote can gag Senate debate at any time.

This would set off a chain of technical moves, including votes. If Barkley's decision is upheld by enough Senators, the filibuster would fade and die in a matter of hours.

On the other hand, if it is defeated the filibuster will rumble on and on. Dixie lawmakers say they are prepared to talk indefinitely.

Before the test, both sides expressed confidence of victory. The filibuster, which began Feb. 28 over a move to curb the filibuster itself, is blocking important administration bills. As long as the talkathon continues the Senate is tied in a knot.

Among the most vital bills waiting action is the one on extension of rent controls. Current legislation expires March 31, and unless it is extended or a new measure passed, rent controls will go.

DEFER STATE "FILIBUSTER"

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Democrats put off today, temporarily at least, plans for a filibuster against Gov. James H. Duff's $438,000,000 tax program.

Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington), had threatened to require full reading of bills unless a public hearing was granted on the controversial gasoline tax. That would practically stop the Senate machinery.

However, at the opening of the session today, Sen. John M. Walker, the Republican floor leader, said he would seek hearings next week on the tax bills if opponents would drop plans to try to talk them to a slow death.

Threatens Action Monday

Lane later told the Senate the Republicans had "graciously agreed to hold public hearings and I will withdraw my plans for a filibuster."

Walker immediately jumped to his feet to declare "I do not agree to the contention I have acceded to public hearings. All I said was that I would be glad to call Sen. (John G.) Snowden (Republican chairman of the Highways committee) and ask him to hold a hearing. I can't call a hearing as majority leader."

Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) then suggested that Snowden be called immediately at his home in Williamsport, but Walker made no move to take such a step.

Lane then said that he will abide by his agreement but if Snowden refuses a hearing "the filibuster will start on Monday."

NEW SUICIDE METHOD

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—Knocking in the street, a 50-year-old Wilkes-Barre, Pa., man ended his life by placing his head beneath the wheel of a six-ton tractor trailer, Patrolman George Hummel said. The victim was identified from cards in his pocket as Raymond Ebert, of 64 Vulcan street, Wilkes-Barre, a former taxicab driver and electrical worker who had been unemployed for some time. He had been living at a hotel here since last July 19.

The weeping willow tree is a native of China and is appreciated for its beauty although it has no practical value.

The motor nerves of insects and spiders are on the underside, along the spinal column as are those of higher creatures.

Brief Notes On Grape Pruning

No compromises are possible in pruning grape vines. The choice is clear-cut. A vine cannot support a heavy crop of leaves and produce grapes at the same time. Pruning is an annual operation necessary to reduce the number of buds so the vines can produce both leaves and fruit.

Every bud produces a leaf shoot. Each shoot this year becomes a cane next year. Therefore, if left unpruned year after year, a grape vine becomes a complex, interlacing mass of canes and shoots, thereby wasting all its vitality in sustaining the heavy crop of foliage.

Of course, foliage is vitally needed. In the leaves are manufactured all the building materials used in feeding the roots, trunk, arms, canes, shoots, leaves and fruits. But intelligent, sound pruning is in reality the striking of a nice balance between foliage and fruit.

In choosing a time of year to prune grape vines the grower should remember that "bleeding" may seriously weaken a vine. Therefore he gets his vines pruned and properly trained before sap begins to rise. Bleeding is the loss of sap that occurs when pruning is postponed until late February or early March. Commercial growers advise grape pruning in late January or early February, preferably on a mild day when the canes are not frozen.

Every grape grower should understand the terms used in pruning advice. Five are commonly employed. Trunk is the old woody basal portion. An arm is a short lateral from the trunk, two or more years old, used for desired distribution or location of the canes. A cane is a one-year-old branch growing from the trunk, arm or spur. A spur is usually a cane or arm cut back quite short and reserved for the future possible place where a cane can be developed. A shoot is the leafy growth that comes from a bud on a cane. All fruit is borne on shoots. Each healthy bud on a cane produces a shoot.

The operation known as grapevine pruning is, as already suggested, a means of reducing the number of buds on an individual plant so there will be a happy balance between foliage and fruit. A vigorous vine will support a larger number of buds than a weak, puny vine.

Most pruning systems aim to retain about four or five vigorous canes, each pruned back so there is a total of no more than 48 to 60 buds per plant. All other canes are cut away.

Essies balancing plan vigor between foliage and fruit, pruning permits better penetration of sunlight and circulation of air to reduce disease dangers; it increases the benefits of sprays to combat insects and diseases and reduces the labor and costs of spraying; it controls the shape and spread of vines and thereby renders the work of harvesting easier.

The editor urges readers with grapevines to write him, enclosing a self-addressed, self-stamped envelope or a 3-cent stamp, for a free copy of our simplified grape pruning instructions.

Snow Is Forecast For 4-State Area

Washington, March 10 (AP)—Snow was forecast today for a four-state area from interior New York southward.

A special bulletin from the Washington weather bureau said the fall probably will amount to three to five inches.

The snow was forecast for southern and eastern Ohio, West Virginia, northern and western Pennsylvania and the interior portion of New York. Rain was in prospect for Virginia and Maryland and along the middle Atlantic coast.

At the same time northeast storm

Also, every grape grower should write his or her congressman for a free copy of Farmers' Bulletin 1870—Pruning Hardy Fruit Plants. In the meantime all questions on this and other pruning subjects will be gladly answered.

warnings were ordered for the area south of Block Island to Cape Hatteras, including inland waters. Easterly winds were expected to become fresh to occasionally strong by night, shifting to strong north and northwest winds and gales early tomorrow.

STUDENTS GIVE IN

Mt. Carmel, Pa., March 10 (AP)—A group of newly 100 students who stayed away from classes all this week decided to return to nearby Arlston high school next Monday. Joseph Gaughan, Centraia justice of the peace, and spokesman for the stay-aways, said that the decision was reached at a meeting of some 300 students and parents at Centraia last night.

William I. the first German emperor, would have preferred to remain simply King of Prussia but was persuaded by Bismarck to accept the larger title late in his reign.

DIES BOARDING TRAIN

Columbus, Ohio, March 10 (AP)—William T. Bobbs, 68, of Penbrook, Pa., died in Union station last night just as he was boarding an east-bound train. Police said he apparently suffered a heart attack.

September 24, 1943. He received his training at Camp Lee; Keesler field. Miss. Penn State: a radio school in South Dakota and a gunnery school at Yuma, Ariz. He was stationed in the United States at Tampa, Fla.; Gulfport, Miss., and Savannah, Ga., before being sent to England in mid-March, 1945. He was a radio-gunner in the Air Force.

Surviving at the time of his death were his parents, a sister, Hazel Crabbs, and a brother, Woodrow D. Crabbs, then a private in the army stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala.

Killed in June, 1944

Sergeant Crabbs' body is among the remains of 6,785 Americans who lost their lives during World War II who are being returned to the United States from Europe aboard the U. S. Army Transport Barney Kirschbaum. They were originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and England. A total of 756 of the remains were returned upon instruction of next of kin residing in Pennsylvania.

Highlights On Making Income Tax Returns

YOUR ESTIMATED TAX RETURN

(Editor's note: This is the last of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his 1948 or 1949 income tax return. The deadline is March 15.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 10 (AP)—The estimated tax return. What is it? Who must do something about it? Some people, besides filing their 1948 income tax return by March 15 and paying up any tax owed, must — Also by March 15 file an estimated tax return — it's called a "declaration of estimated tax" — on their 1949 income and pay on that, too.

Who's in this group? Two kinds of people:

1. Those, like landlords and doctors, who won't have any tax at all withheld from their 1949 income.
2. Those, like wage-earners and salaried people, who'll have some tax, but not the full tax for 1949, withheld from their pay.

Estimates Required

Because "estimate" means just what it says, the people in the two groups must do this by March 15:

1. Estimate what their 1949 income will be and what the tax on it should be.
2. Then start paying — in four installments — the difference between the tax withheld from their pay, if any, and the full tax they'll owe for 1949. The other payments are due June 15, Sept. 15, and Jan. 15, 1950.

The idea is to have everyone on a pay-as-you-go system. Those with full tax withheld from them, will have paid in full by the end of 1949. Those who must make an estimated return and four installment payments should be paid up in full around the year's end, too.

Most Withheld

If you will make $600 or more this year, and no tax is withheld, you must make an estimated return. (Because that income is so low, you may not owe any tax or have to make any payments. Still, you must make a return.)

If tax is regularly withheld from your pay — but you'll get more than $100 income from which no tax is withheld — you must file a return and figure whether you have to make those installment payments. Generally, employers withhold full tax on their employees' pay up to $4,500, plus $600 for each exemption claimed.

Example: Jones, single, will get $5,100 in salary. He doesn't have to file an estimate. Full tax is withheld on the first $4,500 of his pay, and then he gets the next $600 as his personal exemption.

But Smith, single, with a $9,000 salary, must file an estimate and start paying the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax owed.

Other Instructions

Adams, married, has $5,700. No estimate for him. Full tax is withheld from him up to $4,500. Then he gets $1,200; an exemption, $600 for himself, $600 for his wife.

If you're wondering what all this means, do this: You know what you get a week or a month in pay and how much tax is being with-needs, if Adams county fails to reach its quota, we believe it is sound under the circumstances, to conduct this campaign voluntarily as it has been conducted. We are firm in our belief that the process of research, study and public education is so self-evident as the only approach to mastery over heart ailments, the greatest killer of them all, that the $2,000 quota should easily be attained in Adams county. Delayed subscriptions can yet put it over," the committee statement read.

held from you every week or month. So figure how much pay you'll get this year and how much tax will be withheld from it. Then — previous stories explained how to do it — figure what your full tax on your income for the year should be.

If you find you'll owe more tax than will be withheld from you, then you must file an estimate and start paying by March 15 the first of the four installments on the difference between the tax withheld and the full tax owed.

Send First Payment

File your estimate on form 1040-es. It's a very brief form, printed in blue ink. On the back of it are the same table and formula you used with the 1040 long or short forms in figuring your 1948 tax.

Be sure in figuring your estimated tax that you claim all your exemptions and the standard deductions explained in previous stories.

And when you hand over, or mail, your estimated return to the internal revenue collector, enclose with it the first of the four payments on your estimated tax you owe.

have served their full terms and are not eligible for re-election. Four members who have served one term and would be eligible for another, have asked that, due to pressure of other duties, their names not be placed on the ballot for re-election. They are Mrs. Floyd Carroll, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, Mrs. Willis Doyle and Mrs. C. C. Bucher.

Eligible For Election

Mrs. L. C. Keefeauver, Mrs. Guyon E. Bucher, Mrs. George Stauffer, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hennig and Mrs. E. J. Novicki, Jr., are eligible for election for another term. These five names will appear on the ballot, together with the names of Mrs. Helen Corbett, Mrs. Violet Hill, Reida Longanecker, Mrs. William Pensyl, Mrs. Amanda Myers and Miss Rosa Armor. Electors are privileged to add other names to the ballot.

Ten names are presented for the nominating committee, from which five will be elected. Mrs. W. H. Danforth, Mrs. Richard A. Brown, Mrs. Wayne M. Keet, Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, Mrs. S. Lester Scott, Mrs. C. O. Schweizer, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Eva M. Pape, Miss Mildred Stoner and Mrs. H. H. Reuning. The five elected, together with two members appointed from the board of directors, one appointed from the Business and Professional Women's club and one appointed from the Annie Danner club, form the nominating committee of nine which functions throughout the year and makes nominations for next year's elections.

ing of practical nurses would provide hospitals with women who could relieve the trained nurses of many of their duties and release them for the more technical aspects of the profession, she said. The bill would set up a nine-months' training course for practical nurses.

"It does not keep any one from doing practical nursing," she said. "It is not mandatory that a practical nurse obtain a license, but it gives hospitals an opportunity to know its practical nurses, through licensing." Principal opponent of the bill, she said, is a "school" in Chicago which offers to teach practical nursing "in five short, easy lessons."

Interest In Public Affairs

Mrs. Dye appealed to members of the club to take a more active interest and participation in public affairs. "Few women hold public office," she said, "despite the fact that they have the vote, and they have the qualifications. Select a qualified woman, and put aside your petty jealousies and support her for office," she said.

Mrs. Dye was introduced by Mrs. R. S. Baby, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, president of the club, presided at the business session.

Sponsor Hospital Plan

The club voted to sponsor a community enrollment in the Blue Cross hospital plan, through the Capitol Hospital Service, after hearing an explanation of the plan by Richard Wright, representative of the Blue Cross. Pamphlets were also distributed to members.

Heretofore, Mr. Wright said, the only way to participate in Blue Cross hospital benefits was by joining in the pre-paid hospitalization plan through factories, corporations and like groups. The community plan is new, he said, but must be sponsored by a responsible local organization whose duty will be to find and set up an enrollment headquarters, and a collection headquarters, and to "sell" the plan to people of the community. He set 600 applications as a local goal.

Four new members of the club were welcomed, Mrs. William Jacobs, Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Clarence Wilson. The club accepted the resignation of Mrs. Donald M. Swope.

Future Activities

A motion was adopted authorizing the nominating committee to include the nomination of a second vice president in its report at the next meeting, which will be held at the YWCA instead of St. James church. The executive board recommended an amendment to the by-laws to provide for a second vice president, but the matter cannot be acted upon until the next meeting.

Announcement included the Clair Tree Major play, "Toby Tyler," to be given at the Majestic theater April 21; a rummage sale May 13 and 14, and a garden party in June. Mrs. C. Richard Wolfe and Mrs. Carl Oyler were named auditors. The garden party will be held at the home of Mrs. John S. Teeter, Springs avenue. Members were asked to bring their art work.

community.

Speaker for the evening was S. Gordon Rudy, business manager and secretary of the York city school district. Expanding on the theme of public relations he urged the new organization to adopt a three-fold program of community improvement, business improvement and self improvement. "Businessmen of today have a moral responsibility to build better communities of tomorrow," he said.

Kenneth Alwine, chairman of the program committee, announced that for the April 20 meeting, an informative discussion on fire and casualty insurance would be the featured talk of the evening.

Edward Utz, new secretary of the organization, disclosed the total membership has now reached sixty.

A report of the battle anniversary committee was given by Jamn Shenk, chairman. The equipment committee, in a report read by P. Marshall Eugene S. Sickles, listed the needs of the department as: hand lights, six Indian pumps, 10 grassfires, 500 feet of one-and-a-half-inch hose and 500 feet of two-and-a-half-inch hose, two boost nozzles, a portable pump and a shutoff valve for hose on the aerial ladder truck. The committee was authorized to secure prices and contact the borough council.

The commissioners also received a report from the Adams county Child Welfare Services for January showing that 126 youngsters were under care as of January 1. Six new children came under care and 10 were terminated, leaving 122 on the rolls at the beginning of February. Eighty families were represented by the children, who were located as follows: 60 in the homes of parents, five in homes of relatives, 47 in boarding homes, two boarded free and one boarded for the work done, making a total of 50 in foster homes. Others were in various institutions. Three of those accepted by the service during January were recommended by relatives; two by the county commissioners and one by the court.

At Least Three Dead, 40 Injured By Late Winter Storms And Floods In U.S.

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS IN FLOODED SOUTH

Late winter storms and floods left damaging blows over southern and central states today.

At least three persons were killed, some 40 others injured and hundreds still homeless from the battering by weather's elements. Property damage was widespread.

Tornadoes which ripped through six southern states killed one school girl and injured 40 persons.

The worst blinding snow storm of the winter season struck the Missouri Ozarks yesterday. Traffic was snarled on all roads and there were scores of accidents. At least two persons were killed.

High waters still plagued areas in Nebraska, Montana and Iowa. But a cold snap checked, at least temporarily, the flow of flood waters. Many, however, remained homeless. Snow and rain fell over many areas in the south, midwest and plains states.

Major Flood Disaster

The tornadic winds swept from Deridder, in southwest Louisiana, through Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, and then struck at Columbus, Ga., and nearby Phenix City, Ala. At Terry, Miss., part of a five-room school was demolished and one pupil killed and 23 others hurt. Heavy rains accompanied the high winds in many areas.

Some of the flood victims in the Beatrice, Nebr., area began moving back to their homes as the Big Blue river receded. The river earlier this week hit the southeast Nebraska community of 12,000 with a flood crest causing hundreds to flee their homes.

However, the Red Cross declared

CIDDAP, ROVER—Johnny Pennell, 4, of Chattanooga, Tenn., sits astride a 125-lb. dog found roaming the city and given to the Humane Society. Johnny wasn't allowed to keep the pet.

Beatrice a major disaster area and ordered its resources to rehabilitate flood victims. Many of them will be unable to return to their homes for several days. In the northeast portion of the state ice jams held back, temporarily, the heavy waters of the Elkhorn and Platte rivers. Colder temperatures also checked the thaw and run-offs of streams in Montana, but ice jams in the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers in the northeastern section sent waters spilling over some 5,000 acres of range land.

DUFF SIGNS BILL FOR KIDS' CAMP

Harrisburg, March 10 (P)—Pennsylvania set the pace for the nation today as the first state to establish a summer camp for its poor children. Gov. James H. Duff signed into law yesterday a bill setting up the camp at the vast Indiantown Gap military reservation.

Then he announced plans to give 2,500 boys from 14 to 16 years of age a two weeks' vacation at the camp the last two weeks in July.

The boys, the Governor said, will be selected at the local level by the Department of Public Instruction "without regard to race, color or creed."

An appropriation of $200,000 to pay the cost of the camp for two years is now running through the assembly. The plans call for caring for 5,000 boys for two weeks in 1950. "The entire program is being planned to give the children of the commonwealth the same advantages to be found in healthy camp life that is now available only to the child whose parents can afford to pay for it," the Governor said.

Ponder Pay Boost For Pa. Governor

Harrisburg, March 10 (P)—The question of whether to boost the salary of the Governor of Pennsylvania up to that of the Governor of California was before the Senate Wednesday. Governor Duff now receives $18,000 a year. The Governor of California receives $25,000.

"We think our Governor should make as much as the Governor of California," said Sen. Fred P. Hare, Jr., (R-Somerset) one of the sponsors of an enabling bill.

The boost, however, would not affect the pay of Governor Duff since the constitution prohibits elective officials from receiving a pay hike while in office.

MINISTER FROM DENMARK HERE TO TALK TREATY

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, March 10 (P)—Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen traveled here today for first hand information on the North Atlantic Security Treaty. The answers he gets will help his government decide whether to sign up.

He is expected to confer with Secretary of State Acheson and other American officials in the course of a brief visit. After this diplomatic authorities believe, Denmark will formally align itself with the Atlantic pact powers.

Danish membership in the alliance is considered important. This is so not only because of Denmark's location in western Europe, but also because that country holds the island of Greenland with its strategic bases guarding North Atlantic sea and air routes.

To Discuss Bases

The status of these bases under the projected Atlantic treaty may be one of the matters which brings Rasmussen here.

The United States still has in Greenland air stations established during the last war. Negotiations regarding their final disposition have been going on with the Danish government for almost two years.

The American government has been anxious to retain the bases which military strategists consider essential to the defense of the western hemisphere. Under the new strategy of joint North American-Western European defense the bases gain additional importance because of the need to keep open oceanic transportation routes between the two continents.

Plan No Pressure

This is true of several other island positions also. The Republic of Iceland and the Azores, which belong to Portugal, have similar strategic importance. Authorities here hope that Iceland and Portugal also will become members of the North Atlantic Security system.

Eight nations are now involved in the negotiations on the treaty. They are the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Canada and Norway. If Denmark, Iceland and Portugal and Italy decide to join the total number will be 12.

American officials said Rasmussen will be given full information about the treaty, which is now completely drafted, but that no pressure will be put on.

Rasmussen has already declared his government's favorable attitude toward the alliance. He said in Copenhagen Monday: "There is no doubt that we now must look toward cooperation with the western Democracies and the Atlantic pact of peace and defense."

William the Conqueror, ruler of England, was a Duke of Normandy and a descendant of Viking tribal chieftains.

BELIEVE OLEO BILL DOOMED

Harrisburg, March 10 (P)—A long-time drive to permit the sale of colored oleomargarine in Pennsylvania today appeared headed for failure in the present Legislature. Sen. George B. Scarlett (R-Chester), chairman of the Senate Agriculture and the sale of colored oleo would give rise to "unprecedented bootlegging" practices.

Scarlett's committee is now considering a bill to repeal all remaining restrictions against the sale of butter substitutes in the Commonwealth.

"Once oleo concerns are permitted to color their products, there are bound to be wholesale attempts to bootleg it off for butter," Scarlett asserted.

He explained this is the primary reason that his committee is holding the bill in committee. He said attempts were being made to work out a solution but that "little headway has been made so far."

The measure would repeal the present 2¢ license fee for all handlers of Oleo as well as abandon restrictions against coloring of the product.

Death of Bright Angel

by ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 21

The waterway was as Don Fernando had described. A sluggish stream, more like a backwater of the river than separate entity. Alligators lay along the shore, or moved like reluctant logs stirring to life at their approach. Birds thronged the trees, waterfowl clustered on the lake.

A native pilot went with them, for there was plenty of water, but there were shoals and snags for the unwary. At the edge of the lake, almost invisible from where the ship passed, something caught River's eye. He surveyed it through the glass with mounting interest.

Half-hidden by vegetation, partly in the mud and water, was the remains of a big boat. The pilot explained its history.

"It was French," he grinned. "A longboat, with a twelve-pounder in it. They sneaked up here, figgerin' to teach us a lesson for the disrespectful way we treated 'em. The surprise was on the other foot. She's been layin' there wrecked for near a year. The gun's still there, just above the water-line — you can see the sun on it."

Donna Dolores approached, and shivered as she looked about at the encircling woods.

"With you, I am happy to be here," she said. "But otherwise I do not like it, Fernando. It is so lonely. Like — like as if one was going into a trap. You can almost see it closing behind."

That was too apt a description for comfort. And Don Fernando, he knew, would have no scruples if it suited his plans. Yet he had brought the Gay Countess in here ahead of them. If they could go in, they could come out again.

Dusk was upon the land when they sighted the Countess at anchor. There was a long, log warehouse, with other buildings clustered about. Overflowing and spilling out around them was produce — aromatic, not particularly friendly to unattended nostrils, but representing a fortune left to rot unless it could soon be moved.

They spent the night on board, but were stirring an hour before dawn, Rivers being mindful of getting out of town before anyone should be abroad to wonder at his appearance. Birds were singing, and there was the sound of a rooster crowing — a familiar sound which seemed somehow out of place, back in here.

The wagon was waiting, with a good looking team hitched to it. A Dutch wagon, well-built for such all but roadless lands. They journeyed past occasional cabins where settlers greeted them with a frank and friendly interest.

Not the least pleasant part was cooking their meals over an open fire. At which task Donna Dolores proved surprisingly adept.

"Do you not think that I would make a good pioneer?" she asked. "Oh, I like this country — I would like to be one of these people to tame it."

It was mid-afternoon of the second day when they reached Great Neck. Here was more produce — dried beaver paws, tobacco. John Sweeney, a wiry little man with a reddish beard, insisted that they make themselves at home in his house. There would be no trouble about supplies, he assured them.

"And if you could arrange for a second trip, later on, there will be plenty more," he assured them. "But I doubt that, eh?"

"It might be done," Rivers agreed. "But that's a bridge we'll cross when we come to it."

"Sure, and that's sensible. And it may be out of the way before that day comes, eh?"

"How do you mean?"

"There's exciting news, these days. And I can tell you that there's more than news that travels the Wilderness Road these days. We don't intend to sit here and see ourselves ruined. If the government can't — or won't, do anything to help us, we'll do it ourselves."

That would mean the hot-blooded men of Kentucky, on the march, Rivers guessed. He had heard rumors before.

"I don't blame you," he conceded. "But maybe more is being done at Washington than you know about."

Sweeney shook his head distrustfully.

"Maybe, but I doubt it. I've small faith in these Republicans, being a Federalist myself. I do have it that the President, Mr. Jefferson, believes that this country out this way will some day amount to something. But he's one of the few in Washington that think that way. Most of them say it's a forsaken land. They're wrong."

They spent a day in arranging for goods to be brought, down to the ships, then started back. This was an interlude which Rivers would have liked to prolong. Soon he would have to tell Donna Dolores the truth about himself. And other events were on the march.

It was dusk when they came back to the warehouse. Rivers had timed their arrival so that he would not be conspicuous. Now his glance sharpened in the fading light, and he drove the remaining distance at a faster pace.

It was Donna Dolores who voiced the question, with a faint echo of the dismay which had so suddenly come to him, in her voice.

"The ships! Where are they, Fernando? They're gone!"

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — The Emmitsburg Lions club met recently at the Lutheran Parish house. President Herbert Roger presided. A baked ham dinner was served by the women of the Lutheran church. Guest speaker for the evening was Attorney Benjamin Rosenstock, Frederick, who spoke on farm cooperatives and their benefits. Morris A. Zentz was program director of the evening. A movie was shown depicting the American way of life and urging the people to purchase government bonds. The picture was released by the U. S. Treasury Department. A delegation of Thurmont Lions was present. They were, Ross Smith, Samuel Royer, Thomas Stone and Lloyd Mackley. The Thurmont Lions invited the local Lions to their annual charter and ladies' night to be held at Camp Cozy, Thurmont, March 15. The Emmitsburg Lions will hold their annual family night on Monday.

Pupils of St. Joseph's high school and St. Euphemia's elementary school who produced both literature and handicraft are represented among the contestants in the nation wide Mother Seton contest sponsored by St. Joseph's college. ## BISHOP URGES COMMISSIONS TO VISIT REDS

Cleveland, March 10 (AP)—Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam says President Truman should try to send a non-political fact-finding commission to Russia.

Oxnam, bishop of the New York area, told delegates of 35,000,000 American Protestants Tuesday that the commission should be composed of "ten representatives from each of the major fields of our national life." Mr. Truman should ask Stalin to send similar groups to this country, Oxnam said.

He proposed the plan before 400 delegates from 57 denominations and allied religious bodies meeting here to examine major issues threatening world peace. The conference on "The Churches and World Order" is sponsored by the Department of International Justice and Goodwill of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"To Become Acquainted"
Oxnam said that such a delegation would not negotiate agreements or engage in political discussions. He suggested its members be drawn from such fields as religion, education, business, labor and science.

Purpose of the exchange, he said, would be "to become acquainted and to return and tell the people what they found."

Even though Stalin refused such an offer by the president it would show the world "our lack of fear," Oxnam said.

Heavy Agenda
Wednesday the conference split into study groups to work out practical courses of action which will implement the gathering's announced intention of trying to bring about international "peace, justice and welfare."

Their findings will be reported to the full assembly beginning late today. The conclusions will be passed on to the religious bodies represented for consideration and action.

Subjects under study in the conference groups are The Relationship of the Church to American Policy in Europe, American Policy in the Far East, The United Nations, Guiding Principles for World Order, and the "Strategy" of World Order Education and Action.

Sheriff's Sale

IN PURSUANCE of a Writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams County, and to me directed, will be exposed to Public Sale on SATURDAY, the 2nd day of April, 1949, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon at the Court House in the Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pa., the following Real Estate, viz.:

ALL Those two tracts of land situated, lying and being in Oxford Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, bounded and described as follows:

Tract #1: All that tract of land fronting 60 feet on the public road leading from Jenkins' Lime Kiln to the New Oxford Road and extending thence with a uniform width to a depth of 135 feet. Adjoining lands now or formerly of Jeremiah Markle and the James Straubach Estate.

Tract #2: All that tract of land 16 feet wide fronting on the public road leading from Jenkins' Lime Kiln to the Oxford Road and extending to a depth of 135 feet. Said tract being immediately adjacent to Tract #1 heretofore.

Said two tracts of land being the same which Chester D. Brodbeck and Margaret C. Brodbeck, his wife, by their deed dated October 22, 1945, recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Deeds of Adams County, Pennsylvania, in Deed Book 170 at page 428, did sell and convey unto Earl Gorman and Marie Gorman, husband and wife.

Seized and taken into execution as the property of Marie P. Gorman, Earl E. Gorman, and to be sold by me, DORSEY J. SCHULTZ, Sheriff.

Sheriff's Office, Gettysburg, Pa., March 1st, 1949.

Ten per cent of the purchase price is payable in cash immediately after the sale and the balance of the purchase price, plus making, docketing and recording of deed, is payable in cash five days prior to the return day of the writ of execution; if conditions are not complied with the property will be resold and the defaulting purchaser will be liable for the deficiency, if any.

Philipponet, Giant Who Killed Chief Of Police With His Bare Hands, Dies On Devil's Island

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

There has just come to my hand this final chapter to the story of a sensational French killer whom I encountered in 1936 during a never-to-be-forgotten visit to France's notorious Devil's Island penal colony off the Guiana coast of South America.

The several days I spent on those mysterious isles were a great adventure, for the authorities told me I was the first foreign correspondent ever permitted there. Over them hung the aura of past terrors and heartbreaks which form a tragic chapter of the world's penal history.

There are three little islands in this group—St. Joseph, Royale and Devil's. They are ideally situated for imprisonment, for about them is a barrier of swiftly swirling and treacherous ocean currents. And great sharks patrol the rocky shores hopefully.

Killer Heads Hospital

Devil's Island held few prisoners, since it was used only for those convicted of treason, Royale and St. Joseph were used for other great crimes like murder. Royale was the main settlement and there I was quartered in a huge hospital used for the prisoners.

The hospital was in charge of a French doctor who was serving a life term for murder. He was convicted of poisoning his wife for her money and then marrying her rich sister, whom he also poisoned. He was a fox who crept about the hospital on noiseless feet, and used to startle me by appearing at my shoulder suddenly without my having been aware he was near.

The doctor's assistant was Joseph Philipponet, a huge fellow about six feet five and broad of shoulder. He had torn a chief of police in France limb from limb with his bare hands and was serving life for it.

Philipponet was as mysterious as his master, and was forever surreptitiously slipping me messages from other prisoners who wanted help for this, that and the other thing. To deliver one of these notes he woke me in the pitch dark of midnight by scratching on the wooden blind of my bedroom window and hissing like a huge snake.

After my visit I heard nothing more from Philipponet until a few weeks ago he wrote me from the prison colony, saying he was soon to be released and asking if I could help him get to America. His letter came through the Salvation Army, which does a wonderful work in French Guiana.

Of course there wasn't a chance for me to get Philipponet into America, but I wrote to the Salvation Army for further details. Yesterday I got an answer from a French army major who had handled my letter in the absence of the Salvation Army officer.

Dies Of Apoplexy

The major said Philipponet was being liberated and sent to France (the penal colony is in process of being liquidated). The doctor, by the way, had committed suicide by poison.

Philipponet figured a man with his record wouldn't stand much chance back home, and wanted to get a fresh start. He thought he would try to get to Canada and then apply for admission to the United States. The major said Philipponet probably would write to me in due course. Then came this postscript:

"I was about to sign and post this letter when an ex-convict brought me the news of the death of Philipponet. He was very ill yesterday but died this morning in his room, of an apoplexy of the heart."

"So his future is all settled."

About 55 per cent of the oil production from Middle East fields is under British operation.

OVER HALF OF TAX PAID BY SMALL GROUP

Washington, March 10 (AP)—People earning above $6,000 a year make up only 4.23 per cent of the Federal Income tax payers, but pay 51.27 per cent of total income taxes the treasury department said today.

President Truman has indicated he might like to see taxes raised for that $6,000-and-up group.

The treasury report furnished the most recent information available on where income tax money comes from, although the year it covered was 1946.

Only 2,227,013 out of the 52,600,470 persons filing federal income tax returns that year were listed as having income above $6,000. They paid $8,242,353,000 of the $16,075,913,000 individual income tax total.

Only 94 persons—fewer than one in 500,000—reported income over $1,000,000 for the year, and just ten of them took in over $3,000,000. The total tax bill for the $1,000,000-and-up group: $110,120,000.

Almost half the people making returns showed income under $1,750 a year. Their total tax bill: $1,393,990,000.

Of the 52,816,547 making returns, 14,900,851 had no taxes to pay at all—because exemptions or deductions reduced their net income below the taxable minimum.

Key West, Fla., March 10 (AP)—

Harry S. Truman of Washington, D. C. and Independence, Mo., signed his federal income tax return Wednesday.

The return was sent back to Washington on a navy courier plane along with official documents. From there it will be air mailed to the collector of internal revenue at Kansas City.

Mr. Truman made a salary of $75,000 last year. His tax was not disclosed.

Congress recently voted him a raise to $100,000, plus $50,000 in tax-free expense allowance.

IMPORTANT TO DRILL YOUTH IN DEMOCRACY

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 10 (AP)—President Truman says it's through education alone that western people can fight Communism.

"We must have leaders inspired from their earliest years with the ideals of democracy," he said in a talk at Rollins college, Fla.

It would have helped if he had been a little more specific on how the inspiring is done, or the form such education should take.

You can drill a boy in the ideals of democracy, or Communism, and he will believe either without thinking if he's the kind that accepts slogans without examining them.

Only An Ideal

That's hardly sound training for future leadership in a democracy. As an example:

The Declaration of Independence has shining phrases about all men created equal and the inalienable right to liberty.

Since those words were written in 1776 generations of Americans have recited them lustily or had them dinned into their ears as a fact of American life.

But liberty was only an ideal, not a fact, for many for almost 100 years after the words were written. There were slaves here when they were written, and slaves here until the Civil War. And even now, for a lot of Americans who should about democracy, the idea that all men are created equal is not a fact at all.

Take A Look At History

But I wonder how many boys, past or present, busy memorizing the words, have thought of the difference between the ideal and the realities. And I wonder how many teachers have been acute enough, or felt deeply enough about it, to point out the difference to them.

Mouthing the ideals, without facing the realities or understanding them seems to me a feeble education in democracy.

As an ideal, of course, the declaration was important, and still is. But equally important is this: That as early as the year 1776 it could have been written at all. For, written so early, it shaped our history.

Behind the writing was the long history of mankind and the slow, developing idea that individual freedom is necessary for a good society.

How Many Teachers Know?

Few schoolboys are taught any of that, but if they knew the history, they might appreciate more the value of liberty.

I wonder how many teachers, at least below the college level, know enough about it themselves to teach it.

For that matter, I wonder how many schools, including colleges, put any emphasis at all on teaching the history of political philosophy.

It's in that rich field that American students can obtain a real foundation for understanding the importance of human freedom.

STIFFEN WEIGHT LAWS

Harrisburg, March 10 (AP)—Legislation tightening Pennsylvania's shortweight laws was passed by the House and sent to the Senate. The measures include a provision to allow county or city officials to arrest on sight persons caught in short-weight violations.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Patricia and Jean daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin H. Gross, have recovered from their recent attacks of measles.

A number of persons from this area were among those participating Tuesday evening in the Father's Night program of the Paradise Twp. Parent-Teachers' Association at the Lutheran parish house at Abbottstown. In the afternoon, a sale of baked goods was conducted there for the benefit of the PTA.

Lenten devotions were opened Ash Wednesday for the congregation of Paradise Catholic church at the Rectory chapel with mass at 7 a.m., followed by the ritual of the distribution of blessed ashes. The ashes were also distributed at a service Wednesday evening when there were brief devotions followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Stations of the Cross were begun for the Lenten period at the chapel on Friday evening, also followed by Benediction. There is mass at the chapel each weekday morning at 7 o'clock. Prior to the mass, Holy Communion is given to those who are unable to attend the entire mass. Stations of the Cross with Benediction will be the order of each afternoon for children of the parochial school of the parish. The Rev. Chester T. Loszewski, pastor, is in charge.

A special devotion this Lent will be a mission given for the parish beginning Sunday morning, March 20, and continuing through Sunday, March 27. A visiting Jesuit father will conduct this, the first mission at the chapel for more than five years. All parishioners are urged to attend each mission service and to arrange for the attendance of parishioners and friends who may be having difficulty arranging transportation.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Butt, Media, were recent guests of local relatives. Mr. Butt, a former resident of town, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Butt.

La-Rue, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Simons, near Germany store, is improving after a serious illness due to pneumonia. LaRue recently returned from the Warner hospital where she had gone to have a cast removed from her leg which was severely injured last April when she was run over by a car near her home. The little girl had been lame since the accident.

Miss Ruth N. Danner, a daughter of the Rev. J. Monroe Danner, who has a position at the Mechanicsburg Depot, spent the past week on vacation at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Thomas, Hampton, he a former resident of this area, announced the birth of a daughter on February 27.

Kenneth H. Darone, a son of Mrs. Sadie Darone, has been in a serious condition at the Warner hospital as the result of severe wounds suffered in the South Pacific in 1944. It is expected that the young man will submit to further treatment at a veterans' hospital.

Harold W. Gross, proprietor of Gross' Food Market, has returned to his duties after a week's confinement to bed with an attack of tonsillitis.

Herman H. Wolf, remains seriously ill at his home. Mr. Wolf has been under treatment for some time.

Martin L. Kunkel, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Kunkel, a pupil in the fourth grade of the borough school, has received a Certificate of Achievement from the Curtis Circulation company, Philadelphia, for his standing as "highest salesman" in the recent magazine sales campaign conducted by students of both the high and grade school. This is the third year that Martin has topped even the high school students with his sales record in the magazine campaign for the schools' benefit. It was he who presented to the school the new piano bought with the school's profit of the sales, before a large audience at the auditorium during the intermission of the recent senior class play.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Slothour, R. 3, were feted recently by relatives and friends upon the occasion of their 44th wedding anniversary. Mr. Slothour and his wife, the former Miss Mamie Ehrhart, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ehrhart, late of Abbottstown, are the parents of a daughter and four sons, and also have a number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Samuel D. Kling was a guest of honor at a dinner served at her home recently to mark her birthday as well as that of Mr. and Mrs. John Nitchman. Mrs. Marie Keefeauver and Harvey Freed also guests, who have birthdays within the month. Others present were: David Keefeauver, Ada Nitchman, Charles Hoover and Mrs. Henry Gochnauer.

WOULD CURB CUPID

Harrisburg, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Dan Cupid is having a rough time in the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Two Republican state Representatives, Albert E. Madigan, Bradford, and Edward W. Tompkins, Cameron county, yesterday sponsored legislation that would prevent the issuance of a marriage license to a man on the state Public Assistance rolls.

The first oil well in the Middle East was drilled by Britons in 1904.

AAA HEAD SAYS HEAVY TRUCKS DAMAGE ROADS

Washington, D. C., March 10—Thousands of miles of the country's most important roads are being prematurely destroyed by the increased use of heavy commercial vehicles, the American Automobile association has warned.

Major causes of the accelerated destruction of the highway plant according to the A.A.A., are the trucks operating over the highways of states which permit loads in excess of 18,000 pounds per axle and the far too frequent practice of overloading beyond the legal limits in these and other states.

"As recently as last November," said R. J. Schmunk, of Cleveland, Ohio, president of the national motoring body, "the annual convention of our association called attention to the unconscionable damage that our roads are sustaining because of the operations of a comparatively small segment of the great trucking industry, and urged remedial action."

"Many truck operators," Mr. Schmunk added, "take the same dismal view of abuses that we do, and we urge their cooperation in an all-out drive to protect our investment of billions of dollars in highways—an investment now in serious jeopardy."

The A.A.A. president strongly advised that the many state legislatures now in session stand fast against the pressure for higher weight limits and recommended that laws permitting weights in excess of 18,000 pounds per axle load be repealed.

He also urged that every state undertake vigorous enforcement of weight limits so that the overloading evil may be brought under speedy control.

The statement continued: "Destruction of our highway plant, which is so vital to the prosperity and the transportation economy of the country, is proceeding at an accelerated pace at a time when vehicle registration is increasing by leaps and bounds."

Alarming Deterioration
"The alarming deterioration is clearly noticeable not only on our primary highways but also on many principal secondary roads, with conditions particularly aggravated in the northeastern and some midwestern states. As against the damage to roads now in progress, we have a situation where we have not even begun to catch up with the lag in road improvement during the war years and the years immediately thereafter."

"The ratio of the heavier type of commercial vehicle to all vehicles has increased. This in itself reduces the capacity of the roadway, in addition to the pounding involved. Many of the overloaded units in the traffic stream are underpowered and underbraked, creating a most serious safety hazard at the same time that they clog the arteries they use."

New Oxford

New Oxford—As a part of the Lenten devotions of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church, there is Mass each weekday morning at 8 o'clock, preceded by the distribution of Holy Communion at 6:45 a.m. for the benefit of those who cannot attend the Mass. The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor, is celebrant, and expects that all school children be present at each of these Lenten masses if at all possible.

Gerald L. Orndorff, teacher at the Pine Run school near here, reports that these pupils attained a perfect attendance record for the past month: Donald Mays, Barbara Staub, Geraldine Staub, Richard Diehl, Kathryn Arentz, Barbara Jones, Ruthetta Staub, Donald Schaberle, Wayne Stock, Elizabeth Hoff, Robert Diehl, Priscilla J. Yohe, Gerald Staub, Mary L. Swope, Robert Jones, Gene Noble, Joyce Runk and Eugene Staub.

The Missionary society of the First Lutheran church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. J. Brendle, whose co-hostess was Mrs. Curtis S. Sponseller.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hoffman and daughters, Judy and Joanne, formerly of East Berlin, are now occupying their newly erected brick house on the far end of Hanover street. Mrs. Hoffman is the former Miss Glady's Sponseller, this place.

The official board and board of education of Emory Methodist church conducted a meeting at the church Sunday evening after the regular worship service. The minister is the Rev. Elmer R. Nunemaker.

Miss Eleanor Miller, daughter of Charles Miller, who has been living for the past several months in New York where she has a position, has returned there after a brief visit to her home here.

The local 500 club conducted a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edna Bittinger.

The local Lions club is satisfied with the result of the recent public party they conducted at the Livingston Building for the benefit of the American Heart Association. The attendance was large and proceeds amounted to $175.

Albert Smith, who has a position with the Sun Oil company and who has resided in many cities in recent years because of his business duties, has left for Wilmington, N. C., where he expects to be employed until the summer. His wife is in much improved health following her illness which required an operation some months ago.

The Women's Missionary society of the Pines Lutheran church, New Chester, conducted a meeting this week at the home of their pastor, the Rev. Samuel M. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowlen L. Huffman and children spent several days at Harrisonburg, W. Va., Mrs. Huffman's former home, because of the death there of her father, William R. Miller.

The recently organized men's chorus of St. Paul's Reformed church has begun rehearsals in preparation for sacred music to be rendered at services during the Easter season. Men interested in singing are invited to join the chorus.

New Drug Conquers Recurring Malaria

Philadelphia, March 10 (AP)—A new drug called chloroquine was credited today with halting completely the recurrent malaria that has hit comedian Joe E. Brown four times since World War Two.

Doctors attending the 56-year-old entertainer say that the Army-developed drug may be used in the future to halt malaria for the many servicemen who contracted the disease that keeps coming back.

Dr. Louis Chodoff said Brown is in good condition today and should return to the cast of "Harvey" when it opens at Richmond, Va., Monday. Brown was forced to quit the leading role in the stage play two days ago.

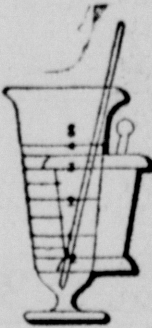

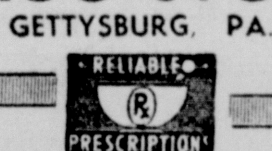

His wife flew here from the west coast to be with her husband. She said Brown has received hundreds of messages and telegrams from well wishers all over the country.

WHAT IS A DRUG STORE?

★ The drug store is but one unit in a complex pattern of businesses and professions, all of which serve the needs of the community. But it is unique in that pharmacy is both a business and a profession.

A business built on service to the sick cannot be restricted to usual "business hours." The need for medicine and sickroom supplies is usually immediate and urgent. In times of widespread illness the twenty-four-hour day seems all too short. We are ready, day or night, to serve the pharmaceutical needs of the community.
